Newsmen in background watch as workmen carry a huge painting from the Russian consulate in New York to a waiting van, already stuffed with crates and boxes. Unusual moving activity preceded the departure—at U.S. request—of Soviet Consul Jakob Lomakin as a result of the schoolteacher incidents. He is booked to sail Saturday from New York aboard the Swedish liner Stockholm.

Premier To Quit After Commonwealth Parley

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's new prime minister will not take office until at least early November.

Prime Minister King announced today he would remain head of the government long enough to represent Canada at the London conference of Commonwealth Prime Ministers late in October.

After that, he said, he will retire as soon as suits External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, his successor.

Capital speculation has set possible retirement dates as Dec. 17, his 74th birthday, or Dec. 29, the 27th anniversary of his accession to the prime ministry.

Mr. King said he also will lead the Canadian delegation at early sessions of the General Assembly of the United Nations at Paris in September.

"It is my intention to seek retirement from office as soon after my return from London as may serve to meet my successor's convenience," he said.

The Prime Minister said his retention of office up to now was specifically at the request of Mr. St. Laurent, who was chosen early this month to succeed him as Liberal Party leader.

"Mr. St. Laurent feels he should have a little more time to make the necessary preparations before assuming the duties of the head of a new administration," Mr. King declared.

"He also feels that it would be unfortunate were he obliged, almost immediately after assuming office, to be away from Canada for a possible absence overseas of some weeks."

REQUEST MADE

For these reasons, Mr. King said, the external affairs minister had expressed the wish that he represent Canada at the two overseas meetings.

During his absence, he said, Mr. St. Laurent will be Acting Prime Minister and will have immediate direction of all policy matters and preparation of the program for the next session of Parliament.

The external affairs minister may go to London if at any time his presence should be "desirable."

3 U.S. Destroyers Coming Here Friday On Four-Day Visit

Three U.S. destroyers will arrive at Esquimalt Friday for a four-day visit, and will be followed Saturday by a destroyer escort which will remain for two days.

The city was so advised today by Canadian naval authorities who state the American craft are on reserve training cruises.

It is expected they will be open for public inspection at H.M.C. Dockyard where they will be berthed.

The three destroyers coming Friday are U.S.S. Maddox under Cmdr. C. E. Mott; U.S.S. Brush under Cmdr. J. W. Geist and U.S.S. Taussig under Cmdr. H. F. Holmshaw.

The U.S.S. Maddox will carry Capt. H. C. Bernet, commander of the destroyer division 92 of the U.S. Navy.

The destroyer escort, U.S.S. Robert F. Keller, will arrive Saturday and will depart Sunday. She will be commanded by Lieut. L. A. Bell.

The gunmen entered the bank around noon. The manager, Roland Langlois, two employees, an adult customer and a little girl were ordered to lie on the floor.

One of the gunmen then snatched a pile of bills from the teller's cage. As he joined his pals in their escape he kicked Manager Langlois several times in the ribs.

London Says Stalin Urges Big Four Talks In Berlin

'Jumped To Escape' Says Mrs. Kasenkina From Hospital Bed

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina said today she jumped from a third floor window of the Russian consulate here because she wanted to escape.

She said in an interview from her bed in Roosevelt hospital: "I jumped to escape, not to kill myself."

The 52-year-old Russian schoolteacher added she did not want to go back to Russia.

Mrs. Kasenkina said: "I don't agree with the policies of Josef Stalin. I love my people and my country, but I cannot agree with the regime in the Soviets."

Mrs. Kasenkina told reporters that when she was returned to the Soviet consulate here from the White Russian refugee farm at Valley Cottage, N.Y.:

"I knew that since they did not permit me to leave the consulate, I would not be able to escape in Russia either."

"Therefore I jumped out of the window to escape. I didn't want to kill myself. I wanted to escape."

She said that Russian Ambassa-sador Alexander Panyushkin and Consul-General Jakob M. Lomakin "both told me what to say to reporters" at a press conference held in the Russian consulate on the day she was taken there from the farm.

WOULD BE 'HEROINE'

They told her, she said, that "Through my message I would become a heroine."

In answer to the question of what was in the letter she sent to Lomakin from Reed Farm, she said she told the entire story of her life in Russia. "She said she also told Lomakin the story of her son and husband."

She said her husband was killed in Leningrad, Jan. 12, 1942.

Closing Of Red Consulates Matters Little—Marshall

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Marshall said today that the United States will accept Russia's order for closing the American consulate in Vladivostok.

Marshall told a press conference that the Russian action, announced Tuesday night as a climax to a dispute over runaway Russian school teachers, was regrettable but not a serious matter.

The U.S. consul in the Pacific port was so circumscribed in his activities that he was able to accomplish little, Marshall said.

NONE AT LENINGRAD

Moscow also canceled a 1947 agreement to permit reopening of the former U.S. consulate in Leningrad. Marshall told reporters no progress had been made toward opening the consulate there.

Along with this action, the Russians ordered the closing down of their consulates in New York and San Francisco. That move speeded up a steady recall of Soviet citizens from the United States.

Marshall noted that the Russians still have the Amtorg organization with headquarters in New York for conduct of business affairs in the United States. He also said consular sections presumably will continue to be maintained in the Russian Embassy in Washington.

The Secretary left open the question of the next step by the United States in the dispute with Russia over the school teachers, who refused to return to their homeland. He said the Soviet note delivered Tuesday night still was being translated.

DECIPHER LETTER

Moscow enclosed, in response to a State Department request, photostatic copies of letters written by one of the teachers, Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina. Marshall said the script was difficult to read and that he was told Charles E. Bohlen, State Department counselor and Russian expert, has not been able thus far to decipher it.

Asked whether the letter would be made public, he said the decision would not be made until he had a chance to read them.

There was no question of breaking off formal diplomatic relations. Consulates are concerned with commercial affairs while political relations of sovereign countries are carried on with embassies and legations.

New Zealand Storm Kills At Least 3

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (AP)—At least three persons were killed by a tornado which ripped through the town of Hamilton today. Six others were believed buried in debris.

The twister, which cut a swath 50 to 100 yards wide through the town in 15 minutes, left hundreds homeless and at least 17 seriously hurt. Hamilton, a town of 20,000 is 86 miles south of Auckland.

Prime Minister Peter Fraser flew to the scene and relief supplies were rushed.

The latest damage estimate is $4,000,000. At least 50 shops were wrecked in Hamilton and many more were damaged.

It is considered almost miraculous that the known death toll is only three, as many houses disintegrated around their occupants.

Cyclones are rare in New Zealand.

Canadian, U.S. Observers At Western Union Meeting

LONDON (CP)—Canadian and United States observers attended a meeting of the chiefs of staff of the five Western Union powers here Tuesday, an informed source said today.

They were the same observers who regularly take part in the work of the military committee of the Western Union permanent commission.

Britain was represented by Marshal of the Royal Air Force Lord Tedder, chief of the air staff.

Representatives attended from the other four European countries, France; Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg.

The meeting was the first since the defence ministers of the five powers launched the military committee on its work of co-ordinating western European defence at a conference in London last April.

Since the Western Union was created in Brussels last March the military side of the co-operation between the five nations has been one of its most important aspects.

Inspector Approves Plan To Rebuild Leaning I.O.O.F. Wall

Plans for reconstruction of the front wall of the I.O.O.F. Hall, 1315½ Douglas Street, to correct a lean outdoors, were received today by J. W. Oosterink, city building inspector.

The wall has been braced with heavy timbers for several months on orders of Mr. Oosterink, who feared collapse of the brickwork. The inspector said plans submitted by the Odd Fellows and drawn up by McCarter & Nairne, Vancouver architects and structural engineers, meet with his approval.

It is understood tenders are being called immediately for the work which, Mr. Oosterink said, will be of major proportions and "ficklish."

Delay has been caused by a controversy which arose between the I.O.O.F. and the building inspector. The I.O.O.F. claimed the wall has been leaning or bulging near the top for 30 years, and is safe. But Mr. Oosterink said the wall had to be rebuilt because it endangered the lives of pedestrians.

Explosion Hurls Woman From Office

TORONTO (CP)—A woman was hurled from the chair at her desk head first through a plate glass window to the street today in an explosion which shattered part of the building of the Canadian Electric Box Company at Queen Street and Vancouver Avenue in east Toronto.

The woman, Edith Cranston, was rushed to a hospital in semi-conscious condition.

Another woman employee, Mildred Mullin, was injured when crushed by a falling wall.

Fear Of Butter Famine Dispelled

REGINA (CP)—People should not be concerned about butter supplies between now and February because there cannot possibly be a shortage before that time, Federal Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner said here today while visiting P.F.A. and F.F.A.A. offices.

Parley Would Settle Dispute Over Currency

LONDON (AP)—An informed diplomatic source said today Prime Minister Stalin has proposed a Berlin conference of Big Four financial experts to work out agreement on the control of the city's currency.

Britain, the United States and France, the source said, were considering the suggestion in talks this week and their envoys in Moscow have recommended acceptance.

Such a proposal could mean Russia has agreed in principle to western demands for a share in administering the German capital's economy.

It also could mean Russia recognizes the western powers' right to continue occupying Berlin—a right Moscow has challenged since the decision to set up a west German government was taken.

The informant, who follows the east-west negotiations in Moscow from official reports, would not permit himself to be identified even by nationality. By four-power accord the Moscow talks are being conducted in secret, at least officially.

Stalin made the proposal at Monday night's long Kremlin conference, the source said.

The informant did not say whether the Russian leader's idea—which he described as a "new one"—was qualified by any conditions.

Expert agreement on Berlin currency control would eliminate the main stumbling block in the way of an east-west settlement of their Berlin quarrels for the western powers, the main objective still is the ending of the Russian blockade over Berlin.

Germans Victims Of More Shootings At Zone Border

BERLIN (AP)—Two more shooting affrays at zonal frontiers have punctuated the east-west tug-of-war in Germany, police reported today. Both victims were Germans.

German police headquarters for western Berlin said persons in Russian uniform shot and wounded a German woman Tuesday night at a boundary dividing the western zones of Berlin from the surrounding Soviet occupation zone. The cause was not known.

SPOKESMAN SLAIN

Bavarian border authorities said German police from the Russian zone Monday shot and killed a German agent of the United States army.

They said the Monday incident occurred at Fuerth Amsberg, a Bavarian town in the U.S. zone. It lies across the border from Thuringia, in the Russian zone. The Bavarians said a man, whom they described as having many aliases, entered the Russian zone Monday night to pick up "information material." They said he worked for the United States army's intelligence, but did not disclose the nature of his information.

They said that Russian zone police wounded him with one shot and he staggered across the border into the U.S. zone and went to an inn.

OPOSED BY BAVARIANS

Thuringian police followed him over the border, entered the inn and demanded the wounded man be turned over to them. Bavarian police opposed them.

The Bavarians seized one Thuringian policeman, who still is being held, and the others fled. Bavarian authorities said U.S. officials took the wounded agent to a hospital, where he died Tuesday.

Heavy Quake Hits North Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A violent earthquake shook the mountainous region of northwestern Argentina early today, but reports indicate damage was only slight. Only one death was reported.

The epicentre was about 40 miles north of Salta, where the residents fled into the streets in their nightclothes.

The shock also was felt in neighboring Tucuman, Jujuy and Santiago del Estero provinces.

Board Will Call Tenders Soon On Main Dike Rebuilding Program

Tenders will be called by the Fraser Valley Diking Board during the next few weeks for the main program of dike reconstruction in the Fraser Valley and it is expected the cost will total between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000, Premier Johnson said today.

No time will be lost in carrying out the work, the Premier said, and one of the main conditions in letting contracts will be that in so far as possible local labor and local equipment are used in the construction work.

The over-all picture involves the building, rebuilding and strengthening of 220 miles of dikes which protect approximately 200,000 acres of land on which 50,000 persons live. The pre-flood dike system was 241.8 miles in extent.

The board has divided its work into two programs—emergency work designed to bring all dikes back to their former condition so as to meet immediate needs, and the main program of reconstruction. In the emergency program there are still 15 small dike breaks to be repaired, and work is progressing very satisfactorily, said Mr. Johnson. The tenders to be called shortly will cover the major program, which is by far the bigger work.

The new dikes will be similar to those constructed along the Missouri river, the Premier said. The dikes will be built with the best material available within reasonable haul and in most cases will comprise a mixture of light clay and sandy loam.

Party Enthused By Nahanni,
Rueful Of Canada's Air Laws

EDMONTON (CP)—A party of United States explorers has returned from Canada's northland, enthusiastic about the scenic attractions of famed Nahanni Valley, but rueful about Canadian government regulations that hampered their photographic expedition.

The nine-man group, calling themselves Nahanni Exploration Inc., set out for Canada last May, planning a trip by air to the mysterious valley near the Yukon border of the Northwest Territories and hoping to bring back a pictorial record of the little-known area to attract U.S. tourists.

Unsuccessful in their efforts to hire a Canadian pilot to take them to the valley, the explorers bought an airplane in the United States and equipped it with floats for the trip.

The catch, as explained by James Murphy, spokesman for the group, was that Canadian government regulations prevented them from bringing the plane across the border.

Murphy said the Air Transport Board told him it considered the venture a commercial enterprise and insisted a licensed Canadian pilot would have to do the flying.

The delay caused by negotiations with Ottawa forced six members of the party to return home. The others—Mr. Murphy and photographers Norman Thomas and Leonard Prehm of Albuquerque, N.M., hired a boat at Fort Nelson and made the trip to the Nahanni by water.

The 41-foot power boat, piloted by north river veteran Dick Turner, made the trip without accidents, bucking 120 miles up the river in 375 hours and racing downstream in 12.

DELIGHTED WITH SCENERY

The photographers shot 3,500 feet of film and expressed delight with the scenery of the valley, once rumored to be the haunt of a tribe of fierce head hunters who preyed on unwary prospectors.

Mr. Murphy's one regret was that the party was unable to get a better view of the country by air due to the "idiotic" government regulations.

"We went in partially to take pictures and advertise the country in the United States," he said.

"At our own expense we planned to film and explore the famous river valley—a plan which might draw a considerable tourist trade to Canada's northland."

I.T.U. Closed Shop
Stand In Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today asked that the International Typographical Union (A.F.L.) be held in contempt of court for insisting on closed-shop contracts.

The union is under a five-month-old injunction against negotiating such agreements, outlawed by the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

In a critical move against the I.T.U. in its fight to keep the closed shop, the board's prosecuting agency charged the union's top officers with having disobeyed and disregarded the injunction.

The restraining order was issued March 27 by Judge Luther M. Swygert at Indianapolis. It was there that Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the N.L.R.B., sent his formal petition that the union be cited for contempt.

Ottawa Diplomatic Missions
Honor Retiring U.S. Envoy

OTTAWA (CP)—Heads of foreign missions in Ottawa Tuesday night gathered at the official residence of the Peruvian ambassador to fetter Ray Atherton, retiring United States ambassador to Canada.

Only officials of the Russian embassy declined to attend or to participate in the offering of a gift to Mr. Atherton, appointed as an alternate U.S. delegate to the United Nations' meeting in Paris next month.

Mr. Atherton, in Ottawa for the last five years, was dean of the diplomatic corps. He will be replaced as dean by Alfred Benavides, Peruvian ambassador in Ottawa for the last three years.

At the gathering were representatives of 33 missions and their wives.

Mr. Atherton was presented with a large silver cigar box, inscribed "To the dean of the diplo-

Many Companies Pocket Profits
Instead Of Paying All On Stock

By Canadian Press

So many people are talking about the bust that will follow the present boom that it is becoming fashionable in the United States to search for signs showing the bust isn't likely to hit soon.

Everyone has his favorite economic signal—the stock market, consumer expenditures, personal income, industrial production or perhaps just a crystal ball.

But new popularity has attached to another signal—dividends.

GAIN OF 28 PER CENT

Dividends are up. Big and little corporations continue to report profits higher than ever before. The New York Stock Exchange reports 418 companies with common stocks listed on the exchange made nearly 28 per cent higher profits during the first half of this year than in the same period of 1947.

But, at the same time, the rate of payment of dividends has gone up only about 12 per cent, Moody's Investor Service shows. Dividends still are considerably below the high levels set in the wake of the 1929 boom.

That indicates corporations are being cautious with their money. They are putting aside a big chunk of their lush profits for the rainy day that may come tomorrow. They remember the bleak times of the 1930s.

The interpretation put on the increase, however, is that corporations as a whole don't expect

Oregon as well as other B.C. points. In all, about 160 clubs will be represented, it is expected.

This will be the fourth time the district convention has been held in Victoria, previous gatherings having met here in 1920, 1929 and 1930.

Introduced to members were five prominent Victoria equestrians who are assisting in the forthcoming International Horse Show. They were: C. C. Carpenter, J. E. Mathews, Robt. Shanks, J. N. Findlay, and Geoff Edgelow. Also introduced were several donors of prizes for the show.

Mayhew Surveys Fisheries' Problems; Plans Bigger Sales

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD
Victoria Times Staff Correspondent

OTTAWA — Federal Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew today announced that he will leave early next month for Nova Scotia first and northern British Columbia afterwards to complete the inspection tour of the entire Canadian fishing industry which he started after the close of the last session of Parliament.

The minister returned two weeks ago from trips to Vancouver Island, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. Already these trips have had important results for the fishing industry generally in the lifting of the embargo on the export of fish meal to the United States and in the cabinet's decision to proceed immediately with the completion of the federal fisheries station at Nanaimo.

TO COVER WHOLE NORTH

Mr. Mayhew will leave Sept. 1 for an inspection of the Nova Scotia fisheries. He will return to Ottawa briefly and then set out on his northern British Columbia tour. He plans to reach British Columbia about Sept. 23 and to visit Prince Rupert, the Queen Charlotte Islands, Skeena River points and other northern British Columbia fishing centres.

When Mr. Mayhew has completed his inspection of the fisheries of both coasts he will have before him a first-hand picture of the potentialities and the problems of the fishing industry generally.

So far, he is convinced the problems of the fisheries of the two coasts are quite different and that each requires special policies applicable to its particular needs.

One of the problems of the west coast fisheries, in which, however, the east coast fisheries also were concerned, was the disposal of fish meal. Mr. Mayhew met a demand of long standing on the cabinet to lift the embargo on the export of fish meal to the United States.

WIDER MARKETS

In respect to the east coast fishing industry, Mr. Mayhew regards the main problem as one of securing markets for the sale of fresh fish in the populous provinces of Quebec and Ontario. The obstacles to overcome, he said, are mainly in the mechanics of distribution. Plans must be devised which will enable the retail purchaser to buy fish with the same certainty of securing a dependably uniform product as when she buys a pound of steak.

Mr. Mayhew has instituted surveys in several of the population centres of Quebec and Ontario designed to measure the fish-eating habits of the people of the upper provinces. The expectation is that these studies will show that consumption of fish per capita in Ontario and Quebec is far below normal, and that an opportunity for increasing the market for the east coast fisheries exists if only a quality product can be marketed.

Four-Year-Old Montreal Boy Has Sad View Of Life; Home Sought

MONTREAL (CP) — Gaston Lalande's name is only one of hundreds in juvenile delinquency prevention bureau files, but for a four-year-old, life has given him a rare pushing around.

A few days ago, police found the brown-haired boy wandering in the streets.

The missing persons bureau found his mother, homeless and helpless in a hospital public ward. From her and other sources they gleaned this story:

Gaston's mother and father separated shortly after he was born. Unable to keep the boy, she sent him to live with a poor but good-hearted family.

But in Montreal's crowded east-end, an extra child can be a burden, so Gaston was tossed from one family to another until last month a garage mechanic took him in.

The boy slept on auto seats while the garageman tinkered at night. When that method of living proved unworkable, the mechanic decided to make a change.

ICE CREAM

Last Monday he took the boy for a walk and gave him a nickel for an ice cream cone.

When Gaston came out of a restaurant munching a cone, the garageman had walked out of his life.

That is where police found the boy. Now his case is going before the juvenile court, which will find him a home.

Barbara Ann Scott Receives U.S. Visa

TORONTO (CP) — Barbara Ann Scott, Ottawa's world skating champion, visited the United States consular-general here today and obtained a visa for use "early in the fall."

"We are getting these papers today so we will be ready when the time comes for Barbara Ann to cross the border," said her lawyer, Robert Hicks. "We have had several deals put up to us, but so far nothing definite has come out of them. We haven't signed anything since the original papers signed with the Music Corporation of America."

Accompanied by her mother, Barbara Ann made a one-day trip to Toronto from her summer cabin at Brockville, Ont.

"The ring which I accepted as a friendship ring from George Fulford Jr., I returned to him," she said. "It was a beautiful diamond ring which belonged to his grandmother and he wanted me to have it. I guess it was silly of me to wear it, but I did. Everybody thought I was engaged, but I'm not."

VANCOUVER (CP) — Bert J. Parker, 69-year-old past president of the International Sourdoughs' Association, died at his home Tuesday following a lengthy illness.

Three Die In Guam Gasoline Explosion

Three persons were known to have lost their lives and one was missing after one of the U.S. navy's largest gas storage tanks on the island of Guam exploded. Picture shows two 10,000-gallon tanks aflame. A spark from a passing jeep touched off the blast. This is a U.S. navy photo sent by NEA-Acme radio-telephoto.

Bomber Crew Unaware Of Crash Causing 9 Deaths

NEWTON, N.J. (AP) — Six United States Air Force men en route to a religious conference, and three crew members of a C-47 transport were killed Tuesday after the big plane had swooped out of a cloud bank and collided with a B-25 bomber.

The disabled C-47 plummeted to the ground near this northwest New Jersey community, crashed and burned. The B-25, a wing-tip sheared and its three-man crew unaware of the disaster, returned safely to its base.

Crew members of the B-25 said they had been cruising at an altitude of about 7,000 feet when the transport zoomed out of a cloud. They reported a "not-too-severe jolt."

The B-25 crew did not see the transport after the planes touched because of cloud. They were unaware it had crashed until they returned to base.

The transport was en route from Washington to Danbury, Conn. The six men, not immediately identified by air force officials, were lay leaders of religious thought in their units. They were going to a religious meeting at West Redding, Conn.

Canada Not Likely To Import Butter

OTTAWA (CP) — An authoritative government spokesman said Canada's butter supply likely will not be augmented this winter by any great importation from other countries.

He stated the government has probed the possibility of importing 15,000,000 pounds from New Zealand and has found New Zealand has insufficient supply to meet other needs besides those of the United Kingdom.

Other countries, too, have been investigated for possible supplies. Australia's position was termed similar to that of New Zealand. The Argentine was found to have butter available, but "at too high a price."

Relieve HAY FEVER

Hay Fever needn't plague you with its sneezing and wheezing, its blowing and gasping, its itching irritation of eyes and ears. Get relief with Templeton's RAZ-MAH as did Mrs. Wesley Branton, Dunnville, Ont. Since childhood, she suffered from Hay Fever. The older she got, the more she suffered. Then her druggist recommended RAZ-MAH.

"The very first night I took RAZ-MAH," Mrs. Branton writes, "I slept comfortably. When I awoke, my eyes and nose were dry. I haven't been troubled since!"

Don't suffer a day longer than you have to. For quick, safe relief from Hay Fever, take RAZ-MAH. Used by thousands. 60c, $1.25 at druggists. R-29

Quiet Day Spent By Western Envoys

MOSCOW (Reuter) — The three western envoys, believed to be awaiting their governments' reaction to a reported communication from Prime Minister Stalin Monday night stressing a Soviet desire for a peaceful solution of the German problem, were expected to have a quiet day today.

Although stressing that all reports on the Kremlin discussions with Stalin and Foreign Minister Molotov should be treated with reserve, observers said they believed Stalin made a statement which completely changed the international picture "for the better."

The envoys were at work at their respective embassies and so far no joint meetings among themselves had been arranged for today—usual preparatory move before another Kremlin conference.

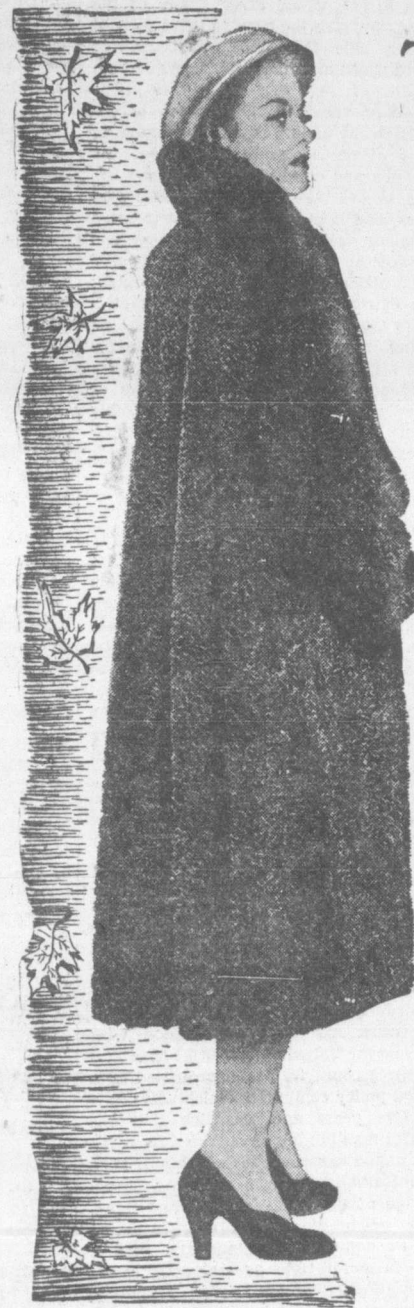

TALK AT EMBASSY

Walter Bedell Smith, United States ambassador, conferred for some time this morning with Foy Kohler, counsellor at the U.S. embassy. Frank Roberts, Britain's special envoy, and Geoffrey Harrison, British Minister to Moscow, worked separately at the British embassy. Stalin's reported intervention was said to have been so important that the western envoys had to communicate immediately with their capitals. Negotiations and diplomatic exchanges continued.

Mae West Sued

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Mae West came to court on Tuesday to defend herself in a $100,000 suit brought by writers Edwin O'Brien of New York and Michael Kane of Hollywood. They allege she used material from their sketch based on the life of Catherine the Great, and did not compensate them.

PINK SLIP BENEFITS

TO WHAT DEGREE THE DECREASE IN automobile fatalities on British Columbia roads during the first half of this year, as compared with figures for 1947, may be attributed to new financial responsibility legislation may be problematical. Certainly a drop of 6.7 per cent is appreciable, though it is far from adequate. As long as one person is killed in a preventable accident, the toll will be too high. On the other hand, if the "pink slip" is helping to curtail the loss of life, so much the better.

According to the authorities, some influence is definitely at work—as was the case in Manitoba when it applied similar legislation requiring drivers to prove financial responsibility when they became involved in accidents or suffer the seizure of their cars, along with other penalties. Recognition of the fact that carelessness would meet with reprisal in a tangible form quite possibly has acted as a deterrent on those who have previously been less than cautious in their operation of vehicles.

On the surface, at least, the "pink slip" appears to have justified itself after a period of trial. Many of the difficulties encountered when it was first brought into use have been eliminated and little is now heard of its allegedly harmful influence on tourist traffic. Probably no official figures will ever be obtained to indicate the effect it had in persuading potential visitors not to visit British Columbia. Conversely, it is noteworthy that police officials have found a welcome appreciation on the part of motor visitors for its application. In some instances, the "pink slip" has furnished a guarantee of restitution to such tourists for damage done to their cars by British Columbia drivers. That is a point which was largely ignored during the time critics were most vociferous in their opposition to the plan. It should be kept in mind as other benefits of the legislation are studied and complementary efforts are expended in the attempt to reduce still further a death toll which remains appallingly high.

STILL AT IT

ALTHOUGH THE STALIN-TITO conflict has dropped out of the headlines of Western Hemisphere newspapers in recent days, it appears from the comments of Washington diplomatic observers that Cominform attacks on the Yugoslav leader are continuing unabated. Every top Communist in eastern Europe—except those in Tito's own country—has been busy denouncing the erring party-liner, leading to a belief that the campaign to oust him will shortly reach a climax. Western explanations of the cause of the breach have been many and varied. The inside story from either party to the dispute has not yet been told.

The possible repercussions, however, whatever their origin, provide interesting speculation. Will Tito be drawn into the western sphere of economic development and trade as a result of boycotts by the Soviet satellites? Can the West afford to encourage a regime that remains determinedly Communist despite the fact that it has become anti-Stalinist? On the other hand, can the West afford not to exploit this first major break in the hammer-and-sickle front? What will be the ultimate effect on the nearby countries, and on Tito's pet dream of creating a Balkan bloc? The questions are endless and the answers, at the present time, are anybody's choice. It is significant, however, that diplomatic sources believe the Moscow-Belgrade break to have gone too far on ideological lines to be healed. It appears to be a fight to the death.

SAVING THE MET

LOVERS OF OPERA THE WORLD OVER, and particularly those of this continent, will have learned with satisfaction that the Metropolitan Opera Association and unions with jurisdiction over employees have settled their difficulties and have avoided the necessity of closing down for the 1948-49 season. A "co-operative approach to a common problem" resulted in the decision to avert closure and the glorious voices of international fame will again be heard by a multitude of patrons.

It is significant that the statement announcing plans to continue during the coming season noted that demands for wage increases and other benefits had been shelved by the union members, and it is also a matter of some importance that the chairman of the association has announced that "the major problems of the Metropolitan have not been solved." Regarding the latter, the explanation is made that despite sell-out houses, the opera cannot meet its rising costs. Production in the style of the "Met" an expensive business. It must, perforce, be sensitive to the increasing burdens of inflation. All factors which push the spiral higher jeopardize the life of this refined cultural medium. The unions, apparently, appreciate that fact; hence the shelving of their demands.

Conditions which may determine the life or death of the opera, of course, do not necessarily carry equivalent influence in less delicately balanced industries. The principle, however, does apply. When costs are too high, a business fails. And when that occurs, all connected with it suffer. The unions of the "Met" appear to have shown commendable judgment in their decision to withhold demands during the approaching season.

SOONER THE BETTER

THOUSANDS OF VICTORIA MOTORISTS and a good many visiting tourists have had occasion at one time or another to deplore the congestion on the Island Highway between Parson's Bridge and Craigflower Bridge, and there will be wide interest in revised reports that a new artery may be constructed to relieve the pressure of traffic from at least part of the route. The suggested highway, via Burnside Road and Douglas Street, would divert many of the cars that now clog the curving drive west of the Four Mile Hill and would provide improved speed and safety for users of both routes.

The narrowness of that section of the Island Highway under discussion contributes to many of the accidents that plague the strip. Hills and curves make it almost impossible to overtake another car safely in this area, and it is a common sight to see a long line of automobiles held back by one "slow-poke" or road hog. A mile or two of driving under such conditions rapidly induces extreme annoyance in most motorists, who then are apt to disregard caution in trying to get ahead of slow traffic. Arterial highways from the city, which once were adequate, are not, in these days of increased population and tourist trade, able to handle the job. Progress in remedying the situation will be welcomed by residents and visitors alike.

UNITED EFFORT

THE WORK OF ONE OF CANADA'S most important industrial developments—the atomic energy plant at Chalk River, Ont.—is carried on in almost complete secrecy. Only now and then is some official mention made of the project, serving to remind the people of this Dominion that they, through their representatives on the Canadian Atomic Energy Control Board, are co-owners of an undertaking of global importance.

The Chalk River establishment, revealed by Trade and Commerce Minister Howe last year to be the world's largest heavy water atomic plant, has been the scene of significant research by Canadian scientists. Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, head of the board, has described the work done in extraction chemistry, for instance, as "vital," and equal in achievement to contributions made by other countries.

A cardinal principle governing Canada's atomic work has been co-operation with Britain and the United States. The researches of the three countries are co-ordinated by a combined policy committee which was established five years ago, ensuring that the maximum results may be obtained from the studies of the experts. This sharing of technical information works to the mutual advantage of the three partners and represents a policy which this country is on record as hoping to continue and expand. There will therefore be general gratification over the statement of Mr. David E. Lillenthal, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, in an address last Saturday, that the work of the committee will follow this plan.

ONE OF THE MOST ILLUMINATING disclosures made since Great Britain and the United States undertook to send supplies to Berlin by air is the fact that it costs approximately $200,000 a day to carry to and from four and five thousand tons of cargo to preserve Berlin's life lines. Apart from this huge expense to which the two western allies have committed themselves—and goodness knows how long this procedure can be continued without an "overt act"—it is to be noted that for $20,000 a day 336 freight cars could render the same service to those unfortunate Berliners who find themselves mixed up with this more or less localized struggle between East and West.

What is to be the outcome of this battle of Berlin few would be inclined to predict. The rest of the world knows, for both the British and the United States spokesmen have made it clear, that the Anglo-American organization in the capital of the former Third Reich does not propose to bow down to the men of the Kremlin or to appease the Moscow imperialists. The scene is not a pleasant one to contemplate; but those who have the least doubt in their minds about the method that should be employed in present and future dealings with the all-powerful Russian Politburo should allow their imaginations sufficient rein to go back to what happened in Munich ten years ago—plus the consequences of a spineless policy.

Some may say that what is going on in Berlin today is of little concern to those of us who are fortunate enough to live some 7,000 miles away from the trouble spot. That type of argument no longer is valid. Scientific development, progress in so many forms of human endeavour, have so contracted the extent of the earth's surface that a small incident in the remote fastnesses of a supposedly obscure land may easily involve in dire trouble the two billion people who inhabit this planet.

Wallace doesn't matter. What matters is that Communists now have a tight organization in every state, with Wallace serving as bait and shield.

The House Of Fear

From the New York Times

THE SOVIET CONSULATE on East Sixty-first Street, New York City, is not a part of Russian soil. The police may enter there if they have good reason to believe a crime has been committed or a life is in danger. The lawyers are not in agreement as to precisely how far the diplomatic privileges and immunities of the Consul General and his staff may run. Still, within this house and up to a certain point, the Soviet Government has power. It had power enough a few days ago to reach up into Rockland County and bring back Mrs. Oksana Kosenkina, a former teacher in a Russian school in this city, who had fled in order to avoid returning to Russia. It had power enough to force Mrs. Kosenkina to tell a false story of being drugged and kidnapped. It had so much power that the only escape Mrs. Kosenkina could see the other afternoon was to jump from a third-story window in the Consulate.

BADLY INJURED BUT SAFE from the threat of deportation, Mrs. Kosenkina has now been able to tell her true story. She was, she says, held prisoner. Another teacher, Michael Ivanovich Samarin, was luckier. He and his family kept out of the House of Fear on East Sixty-first Street by placing themselves under federal protection and going into hiding.

These events, happening in free America, horrify us. The shock is intensified when Foreign Minister Molotov demands that these refugees be "liberated" for deportation to Russia. We know the probable nature of such "liberation"—the executions or the living death of the labor camps reserved for those who dare to differ with the Moscow Government. We know, too, why this "liberation" is sought. It is because these witnesses are able to testify in damning terms against the tyranny which has been clamped down on the Russian people. Mrs. Kosenkina and the Samarins have preferred freedom; that is their crime. It is not a crime, as the State Department has assured them, for which they will be driven out of this country. On the contrary, we respect them for it.

THIS INCIDENT OF a desperate woman seeking or risking death comes home to us because it occurs in a house on one of our own streets, in a city where there are police whose duty it is to protect the innocent and courts to see that the rights of the individual are preserved. It may startle some readers more than the suicide or murder of a Czech patriot, more than the flight of Czech aviators into countries more friendly and more free than their own now is, more than the countless slaves in Russia itself, more than the countless dead whose offense was a belief in something like the Bill of Rights or perhaps merely in some variant of the official Communist creed. It is human nature to find a tragedy under our windows more shocking than a multitude of tragedies far away.

NEVERTHELESS, IT WILL be beneficial for us to remember that the fear that was in Mrs. Kosenkina's heart was but an extension of the fear with which millions of people today, in Communist-dominated countries, rise and eat and work and go to bed. From this larger House of Fear there is almost no escape. In Russia itself a whole generation has been born in it and has grown accustomed to it as men grow used to the climate of the Arctic or the Persian Gulf. But the fear is there—the fear to talk, the fear of strangers, the fear even to think lest the thought be wrong and some chance expression betray it.

IF MRS. KOSENKINA and the Samarins preferred American freedom, this is not because our society is perfect. They had only to read the newspapers to know that civil rights are not yet secure for all Americans, that we are not adequately housed, that we still have crime, poverty and ignorance. But they could also learn, in the same fashion, that the eternal struggle for justice goes on and makes progress, that the basic freedoms stand and that our voters can make and unmake their local, State and Federal Governments.

WE HAVE NO POWER or wish to force this kind of freedom upon Russia or any country other than our own. We do have the power to say that foreign diplomats shall not set up prisons on our soil for the detention of persons not recognized as criminals under our laws. And as we look abroad at the vaster House of Fear that has been erected stone by stone since 1917 and extended by breach of faith since 1945 we have a right to take a firm stand, as we have done, against its further forcible extension. The incident on Sixty-first Street will strengthen popular support for that policy.

Quoting

We Socialists emphatically disagree with Wallace that peace can be had by appeasing Communist totalitarianism. — Norman Thomas, U.S. Socialist candidate for President.

Russia is right in opposing a United States policy in Germany which would restore to power the very same men and groups which created the Nazi war machine. — Henry A. Wallace.

There can be only one currency in Berlin. Berlin is part of the Soviet zone and belongs to the Soviet zonal economy. — Soviet Marshal V. D. Sokolovsky commenting on German currency reform.

Is It Hot Enough For You?

A Neighborly View

From The Washington Post

LITTLE IS KNOWN in the United States about the man who has been chosen to lead the Liberal Party of Canada in succession to Mr. Mackenzie King. He is the Minister of External Affairs, Louis St. Laurent. Lack of knowledge of him is due to the recency of his entry into politics; he was not until 1941 that Mr. St. Laurent, who hails from French-speaking Quebec, left a creative practice at the bar to join Mr. Mackenzie King's wartime ministry.

SUCCESSFUL QUALITIES. In office he has been a conspicuous success. This is due not so much to his gifts of speech, though his bilingualism is a distinct asset in Canada, as to his quality as an administrator, and, of late, to the revelation that he has vision.

It is incumbent upon Americans to know more about Canada and its new Liberal leader and the relation of both to Canada. The atomic age has reinforced geography in making neighborliness a necessity to both countries.

Our immediate strategic concern lies in the Arctic region which is Canada's backyard, but it is sometimes expressed in relations with Canada in a way that is perhaps more impetuous than dictatorial. Such an attitude may be offensive even to a friend. The Canadians are natural collaborators in strategy, and the accent in negotiations must always be on collaboration.

COMMON INTEREST

Our concern is their concern, theirs is ours; and this identity of interest, coupled with the existence of all the other ties binding the two countries, requires common activity based upon the recognition of togetherness.

When Mr. Mackenzie King retires from the Prime Ministership, the mantle will fall on Mr. St. Laurent. Mr. St. Laurent is no mere follower of Mr. Mackenzie King. As firm in his belief in free enterprise and international co-operation as Mr. Mackenzie King, he is more activist, and this is likely to be registered in a more vigorous diplomacy.

Hitherto the steady voice and dialectical skill of Canada have been at the service of easement and compromise at world gatherings. From now on Canada will doubtless appear among the advocates.

LARGER ASSOCIATION

Mr. St. Laurent believes in that larger association of freemen which is coming increasingly to be considered as a better security than armaments and bases. He thinks of the talk of war as "blasphemy," and his speeches testify to a devotion to peace expressed by a constructive re-adjustment in nineteenth-century ideas of sovereignty.

Specifically the proposal of a North Atlantic union has in him an ardent supporter, and the urgency in Mr. St. Laurent's speeches and the loftiness of his aims in relation thereto indicate the possession of statesmanship.

Illusion Of High Earnings

CONTINUED CONCERN over the widening breach between prices and income, from both the personal and business point of view, features the Bank of Montreal's business review issued this week.

Price rises, which during the past 18 months have caused the average Canadian's cost of living to increase more rapidly than his income, have also made some recent corporate earnings appear deceptively high.

The bank points out that between 1939 and 1946 the average Canadian's income increased by 90 per cent, compared with a 22 per cent rise in the cost of living. "While statistical averages are not always convincing to the individual whose experience may have differed from that of the majority, most Canadians were aware that... they were better off in 1946 than in 1939, despite higher prices and heavier taxes," the review observes.

By contrast, per capita income during 1947 rose only five per cent, while living costs climbed twice as much. It is still too early to estimate the level of average personal income during 1948, but it is unlikely that it has kept pace with the cost of living, which at July 2 was 15 per cent above the mid-1947 level.

REAL EARNINGS DECLINING

Monthly reported average dollar earnings of over 2,000,000 employees of the larger firms in Canada's chief industries indicate that the real earnings of this large segment of the population have been declining since early 1947.

"In a similar sense," the review continues, "the comparatively high corporate earnings reported for recent fiscal periods are in part rendered deceptive by the rise of prices. Not only have dividends received by shareholders shrunk in purchasing power, but changes... may have affected the true worth of a business."

The bank adds that the nature of these changes is not always clearly recognized. For example, "depreciation reserves based on original cost may fall far short of providing for the replacement of fixed assets at substantially higher current prices." The review points out that the rising value of inventories, characteristic of inflationary conditions, increases earnings, but that such profits may be offset by losses during another period.

From this it may be concluded that "apparent profits are to some extent fictitious, and their distribution is tantamount to the impairment of capital."

The upward movement of both prices and living costs have "accelerated to a pace and reached a mark not exceeded in past records." It is this fact that causes concern over what the bank terms the "illusory nature of currently high earnings of both persons and business enterprises." These higher prices, rather than larger or more numerous purchases, account for the sustained flow of consumer spending.

One Question—One Answer

THE BRITISH are not an imaginative people, but one great feat of imagination is required of them if they are going to succeed in understanding the complications that have arisen in the foreign affairs," writes Sir Duff Cooper in the Daily Mail.

"They must try to imagine what it means to a country to be invaded by a foreign foe. "No foot of a foreign invader has landed on the soil of England for nearly 1,000 years and therefore it is no small effort of imagination that is required of the British people."

"Often, since the end of the war, English friends of mine coming to Paris and finding it untouched by bombardment, have thoughtlessly remarked that the French suffered less than the English during the years 1939 to 1945.

BOMBS OR OCCUPATION

"I used to ask them one question."

Same Old Tactics

Winnipeg Free Press
Hope of co-operation seems to have disappeared with the proceedings of the conference in Belgrade. Russia not only opposed every attempt to internationalize the Danube but has used the occasion for another of Mr. Vishinsky's familiar tirades against the west. Instead of a gesture toward peace, the conference looked very much like another propaganda operation.

tion: Would you live again through the bombardment of London, and see it suffer again what it suffered then, or would you rather that it were occupied for four years by the enemy, the swastika flying over Buckingham Palace and the Houses of Parliament, German troops marching daily down the Mall, and the knowledge that at any moment you, or those who are dearest to you, might disappear into a concentration camp, whence there could be no escape and about which no questions could be asked?

"There could be but one reply to that question, and the view that the French had suffered less than the English could not survive it."

Global Survey

Associated Press News Analyst

THE LATEST conference between Stalin and the western ambassadors is said in diplomatic quarters to encourage hope for an east-west settlement of the Battle of Berlin.

If we took this as a basis for speculation, we would be entitled to believe that a settlement of the whole German imbroglio might be achieved. Indeed, a well-informed source in Moscow suggests as much. And with such a start we could keep on pyramiding until all the differences were ironed out and we had world peace.

FUNDAMENTAL BASIS

However, if our analysis isn't going to run away with us we first must recall the fundamental basis of the quarrel between Soviet Russia and the western world. That is the declared determination of Moscow to carry out world revolution for the destruction of "capitalistic" governments and for the establishment of Communism in all countries.

We must start from that premise. We must recognize that Moscow doesn't want peace, for the reason that it would block Bolshevism's aim of communizing the world. The Reds might make truces from self interest, but these would be only pauses in the global revolution.

John Foster Dulles, foreign policy adviser to Thomas E. Dewey, United States Republican presidential nominee, laid down a very clear statement about Communism in a speech yesterday at the assembly of the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam. Said he:

NO WAR?

"The Soviet regime is not a regime of peace, and, indeed, it does not purport to be. It may not, and I hope that it does not, want international war. But if so, that is a matter of expediency, not of principle. Violence and coercion are the accepted methods, class war being, however, usually preferred to national war."

Why a truce at all? Well, the Russians aren't in a particularly happy position. As I have often pointed out in previous columns, their cold-war offensive aimed at the conquest of western Europe has bogged down. They are up against determined democracies, reinforced by the Marshall Plan.

TRADE PREFERRED

Calgary Herald
During the last few years, the United States has given and lent many millions of dollars to Britain. But the British people don't particularly want to be given American dollars, and they don't particularly want to borrow them, either. They want to earn American dollars, by selling their goods and services to the United States.

PRICELESS

The question is: How much is it worth to us to protect ourselves against the slaughter of our people, the destruction of towns and cities, and conquest by a foreign power? Who can attempt to put a price on that?

This flight from behind the iron curtain—it has no parallel except the exodus from Hitler's Germany—provides the best confirmation for the stories we hear of misery, oppression and terror. VALUABLE INFORMATION

Toronto Daily Star
The Dominion health and welfare department publishes a book, "The Canadian Mother and Child," which is full of important information and advice, and is freely available to everyone.

It is constantly brought up to date. Probably no other government publication has had such popularity. Its author is Dr. Ernest Couture, chief of the child and maternal health division of the federal health department.

Every home in Canada should have a copy of the book. It can be obtained free of charge in French or in English by writing to the Division on Child and Maternal Health, Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, Ont.

Hard-Surface Needed To Make Alaska Highway Tourist Artery

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Alaska Highway is in good shape except for the southern approach in Canada, William Warne, assistant secretary of the interior, said today.

If properly developed, the United States official told a reporter, the famous war-built

"The interior section, unimproved dirt road that becomes greasy when it rains, totals only about 125 miles.

ALBERTA'S PLANS

"Ernest C. Manning, Premier of Alberta, told me the province plans to put the road in shape—relocating some sections and graveling them as rapidly as possible.

"We hope to pursue the problem of surface improvements with Canadian officials this year."

Warne recently drove over the road from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Edmonton. From Fairbanks to Dawson Creek it is a well-engineered, high-class, gravel-surfaced road, equally well maintained in Alaska, the Yukon Territory and British Columbia, Warne said.

He added that the highway needs:

1. Additional roadside facilities, especially in Alaska. Canada is far ahead of Alaska in providing overnight facilities, cafes and gasoline stations.

2. Dust abatement. Alaska has started to black-top the first 90 miles of the road out of Fairbanks and plans a similar surface to the Canadian border.

"It will be necessary to hard-surface the road all the way before it will become a major tourist route," Warne said.

Development of the highway, he said, should particularly be boosted by the cities most likely to benefit from tourist development — Fairbanks, Anchorage, Whitehorse, Dawson Creek, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Calgary, and Great Falls and Cut Bank, Mont.

LETCHWORTH, Hertfordshire — A sailor was fined 10s ($2) for being drunk and incapable in this, the only town in England without a public-house.

Housing For Old People Discussed

The Senior Citizens' Campaign Council Tuesday night discussed the problem of financing a building project for the city's older citizens after hearing Ald. Frank Mulliner on crowding of the city's two major hospitals.

to find housing for 38 patients who no longer require treatment.

The city has no accommodation for them but is making every effort to relieve the resulting congestion in the hospitals, he said.

George Dyson said senior citizens' cottages at Sapperton, B.C., rent for $20 a month and provide the type of accommodation needed by the pensioner.

A committee was set up to study the housing question.

Chamber Of Commerce To Move To Black Ball Building

The Victoria Chamber of Commerce will move next week from its present location on the first floor of the Arcade Building on Government Street to new offices on the first floor of the new Black Ball Ferry Line building on Wharf Street, opposite the Post Office.

The move will be the first for the chamber in over 30 years. It has occupied the Arcade building's front, upstairs office space since the building was opened in 1916. The building was specially built with a large auditorium for the chamber's convenience and for this reason has often been wrongly called the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, instead of Arcade Building.

While the chamber will not have auditorium facilities in the Black Ball building, it will have a larger board room—something long wished for, by the 19-man directorate which has 20 ex-officio members.

As was the case in the Arcade building, the space which the chamber will occupy in the new building, has been designed specifically for its use. When plans for the Black Ball building were first made public in the summer of 1946, the ferry building was shown as a one-story structure. After several conferences with chamber heads, however, chamber executives had architects add a top floor to the plans so that space would be available to the chamber and the other organizations, which take space in its offices.

These organizations, which will move their furnishings and office records along with those of the chamber, are: Victoria branch, Canadian Manufacturers' Association; Victoria Builders' Exchange, Victoria Automobile Dealers' Association, Victoria Automobile Club, Vancouver Island Associated Chambers of Commerce and Victoria & Island Publicity Bureau.

The latter has only temporary quarters in the Black Ball building, as a separate bureau office is to be constructed at the north end of the Causeway by the Rotary Club through public subscriptions.

Chamber Favors One Set Of Standards

Directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Monday gave their unanimous support to a recommendation from the chamber's industrial development committee that the Canadian Standards Association continue to press as a member of the International Standards Association for the establishment of a universal set of standards.

"Any movement towards unification in any degree of international standards is a progressive endeavor which should be supported," Duncan MacBride, committee chairman, told the chamber directorate.

Many Canadians have experienced difficulties because of the difference between standards here and in the United States. Victorians, for instance, have gone to Seattle and purchased electric stoves, have paid heavy import duties to bring them into this country and then have been prohibited from installing them in their homes because the wiring in them, while up to U.S. specifications, would not meet Canadian standards.

The question of standards also covers weights and measures. Notable examples of Canadian and American differences here are the gallon liquid measure and the ton weight.

Labor, Chamber To Exchange Speakers

Chamber of Commerce directors decided at a meeting Monday to accept an offer from the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council to have representatives from both groups speak at meetings of the other on labor-management relations.

The chamber directorate was enthusiastic over the possibilities involved. It was suggested by some that panel discussions could be arranged with representatives of labor and the chamber taking part.

"Anything which will bring about a greater understanding between labor and capital will be advantageous," P. B. Scurrah, chairman of the retail merchants' section said. "That idea of getting around a table to talk things over is still a good one."

Walter S. Miles, chamber president, was pleased directors gave their approval to the council's proposal.

"These people deserve a lot of help," he said in concluding the discussion.

What To Watch For At Horse Show Told Kiwanians By Rider

Members of the Kiwanis Club got the "low down" at their luncheon meeting at the Empress Hotel Tuesday on what to look for at next Saturday's International horsemanship at the Wilfrid, which the organization is sponsoring.

They were given the points to watch for in judging by one of the city's leading horsemen, Geoff Edgelow, who, incidentally, is a member of the local Rotary Club.

He pointed out first that the show, which will present afternoon and evening performances at 2:30 and 7:30, will benefit the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Queen Alexandra Solarium, Canadian Red Cross and Kiwanis boys' objectives with equal shares of the proceeds.

In the children's riding class, Mr. Edgelow advised the horse show audience not to worry about the horse but to watch the way it is handled. The rider will be judged on how he or she controls the horse in its paces.

Horses in the pleasure saddle class should have style, brilliancy and manners, the speaker said. In judging, the horse should be adaptable to any type of riding. Breeding will not count.

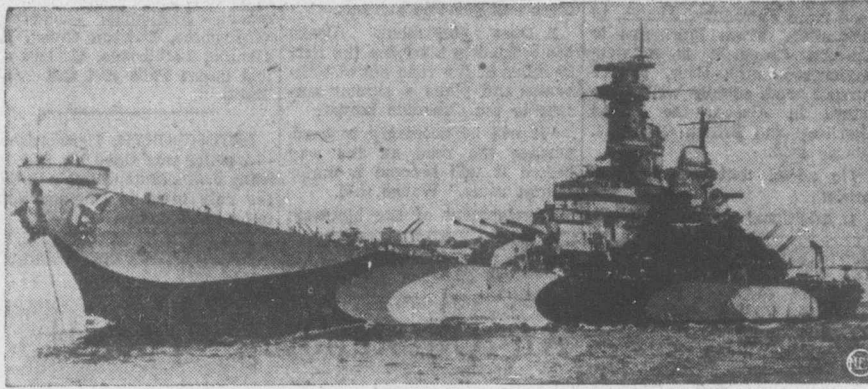

MOST COLORFUL
The Western Parade class will be judged by the dress of the riders and the tack and Mr. Edgelow predicted this event should be one of the most colorful of the show.

In the hunter classes the horses are judged on conformation, quality, substance and soundness with 50 per cent marks going for manners, performance and way of going, and 50 per cent on quality and soundness. The hunter must have a level pace, be fairly fast, extend himself when jumping, and of course be a good jumper.

In the open jumping event, the horse's conformation and manner are not so important so long as he takes the jump clean.

In the gaited events, horses entered in the show will show exceptional grace, beauty and intelligence, Mr. Edgelow promised. Judges take into consideration color, clean legs, high head, carriage, arched neck and straight back. The horses are judged on the way of going, straight, no weaving, leading with the left or right foot whichever the judge calls for.

U.S. Battleship Soon To Be Retired

U.S.S. IOWA

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States navy is retiring one of its last two active battleships, but reactivating an aircraft carrier and eight destroyers to intensify an anti-submarine warfare training program.

The announcement was made late Tuesday by Navy Secretary John L. Sullivan.

U.S. Auto Workers Get 3-Cent Boost As Costs Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new upward leap in the United States cost of living, reported Tuesday by the government, brought an automatic wage increase of three cents an hour to more than 250,000 automobile workers.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics announced that its consumers' price index hit a record high of 173.7 on July 15. The base, 100, is the 1935-39 average.

Approximately 265,000 hourly-rated employees of General Motors will receive the three-cent increase. Under a contract negotiated by the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) last May, the pay of the G.M. workers is linked directly to the cost-of-living index.

Their wages fluctuate one cent an hour for each 1.14 points the index goes up or down. The adjustments come four times a year. This is the first under the new contract.

The new price index is 9.7 per cent higher than a year ago and 30.3 per cent above the June, 1946, level. It was 76.2 per cent above August, 1939.

Retail food prices averaged 1.3 per cent higher; miscellaneous goods and services were up 2.2 per cent; the fuel and ice group advanced 1.7 per cent; other major crops groups increased fractionally.

The continued rise in retail food prices boosted the food index for July to 216.8 per cent of the 1935-39 average. It was 12.3 per cent higher than a year ago, 48.9 per cent more than in

To release money and men for the anti-submarine training, the battleship Iowa will be retired about Sept. 1. That will leave the U.S.S. Missouri, on whose decks the surrender of Japan was signed, the only active battleship in the fleet.

The navy said that revolutionary developments in underwater warfare point up the need for more intense anti-submarine training.

With the Iowa in mothballs, the navy will have 14 battleships in reserve. It emphasized, however, that they all could be reactivated quickly.

June, 1946, when price controls were substantially abandoned, and 131.9 per cent above August, 1939.

The bureau found that principal increases were chalked up by meats, poultry, fish, dairy products and eggs. Fresh fruits and vegetables declined less than the normal seasonal drop.

Welfare Worker Finds 3 Boys Tied To Bed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Three boys were found tied by their necks to a bed in a dirty room of an east-side home Tuesday.

The boys, aged six, four and two, were found by a visiting welfare nurse. Their mother, Mrs. Virginia Hawks, 28, and Nathaniel Green, 42, were held on charges of vagrancy.

Police said the boys were clad only in dirty shorts and their bodies were covered with sores and bites. The rope allowed them only enough freedom to reach a pot used as a toilet.

Clark Says U.S. West Coast Defences Inadequate, But Being Strengthened

Following his arrival in Victoria's Inner Harbor, U.S. Gen. Mark Clark inspects the guard of honor mounted by the Canadian Scottish in front of the Legislative Buildings. With Gen. Clark is Capt. Royce Marshall, officer commanding the guard.

The bright, white Q-type U.S. army crash boat berths at the Inner Harbor jetty Tuesday afternoon with Gen. Clark and his party aboard. Shortly after, the general stepped ashore to be greeted by a large group of local officials.

Although U.S. west coast defences are at present inadequate, the situation will be corrected by plans which are now under way, according to U.S. Gen. Mark Clark, commanding-general of the 6th Army, whose headquarters are in San Francisco.

Relaxing in his room at Government House Tuesday afternoon, the tall, amiable U.S. soldier claimed that the U.S. west coast "sticks out" as an important area which holds an atomic plant, Boeing airplane factories and navy yards among its vital factors.

It is very important that these be given adequate protection, he told the Daily Times. While he believes present defences inadequate, he added "I think that, with current plans under way, we can provide for the protection of installations in the north-west part of my command."

The U.S. Selective Service will soon provide the manpower and "that is the main requirement."

Gen. Clark declined to comment on the current Russian situation.

However, when asked for his opinion of communism, he said:

Court Wipes Out Labor Board Order

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Supreme Court of British Columbia Tuesday denied the B.C. Labor Relations Board authority to enforce an order directing the F. W. Woolworth Co. Ltd. to re-employ seven discharged Vancouver employees.

The board has ordered the company to re-employ seven employees discharged because of union activities last April.

The denial appeared in a writ of prohibition handed down by Mr. Justice H. S. Wood.

Arguing for the company, Charles Locke, K.C., said the board's authority for the order had not been enacted until April 28, three weeks after the last employee had been dismissed, and the legislation was not retroactive.

Says U.S. Company Dominates Canada's Shoe Industry

OTTAWA (CP)—O'Neill O'Higgins, a Prices Board supply officer, told the Prices Commission Tuesday the Canadian shoe industry is dominated by the American-owned United Shoe Machinery Co. Ltd.

The statement was protested by Paul Knowlton, assistant general manager of the company, who said his firm was a large factor in the industry, but did not dominate it. He added, however, that only 25 per cent of Canadian-made shoes are produced without the use of his firm's machinery at some stage in their manufacture.

When Commission Counsel H. A. Dyde read a list of the leading shoe manufacturers in Canada, Mr. Knowlton agreed that all of them used at least some United Shoe Machinery Co. equipment.

Mr. Knowlton had testified that 70 per cent of the company's machines were only leased to manufacturers and could not be bought outright. The less important machines, he explained, were sold outright, while stitching machines were leased.

The lease arrangements involved charges based on the number of shoes produced by the machine, as well as initial and terminal charges.

CHARGES VARY

Mr. Knowlton was not asked for the actual charges which, he said, varied from one machine to another.

Mr. O'Higgins' statement was made in the course of a general survey with which the commission opened a probe of the shoe industry.

United Shoe has a "virtual monopoly" through its patents, he said.

"They supply the great majority of the machines used and do not sell their equipment outright but rent on a royalty basis."

Sentenced To Death

BERLIN (Reuter) — Josefa Idler, 58-year-old charwoman known as the "female Bluebeard," was sentenced Tuesday to death for the murder of the last two of her four husbands.

After her last husband had died in January, 1947, his family became suspicious. His body, with that of husband No. 3, was exhumed. Both were found to contain large quantities of arsenic.

In 1936, the woman was arrested when the body of her second husband was found cut to pieces and sewed up in a sack a few hundred yards from her home. She was held for three months, but released for lack of evidence.

Her first husband is believed to have died a natural death.

Austin Factory Resumes Operations

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (CP)—A company spokesman has announced the 17,000 strikers at the Austin automobile works here resumed work Tuesday.

The management agreed to the workers' condition that the present methods of fixing piecework pay be suspended while negotiations take place.

The strike, which began last Thursday, had held up manufacture of automobiles for the export trade. It started after the workers had protested against the basing of piece-work rates for the new high-speed American-type gear-cutting machinery on the time taken by demonstrators.

The management agreed to the workers' demands providing the cost of the two jobs in question remain as now until negotiations are completed.

General's Visits Home Most Exciting To Family

Miss Ann Clark, with her pet "Snootie," Mrs. Thomas E. Griffiths and Mrs. Mark Clark, right, are greeted by hundreds of Victorians on their arrival in the city.

To me, the most exciting events in my husband's career, include his hazardous trip by submarine to North Africa, the landings at Salerno, and the taking of Rome. But even more thrilling were the times when he managed to slip quietly away to visit my daughter and myself," Mrs. Mark Clark said in an interview Tuesday, when she and her daughter, Miss Ann Clark, arrived in the city with their celebrated husband and father, General Mark Clark.

Mrs. Clark and her daughter are accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Griffiths, with whom they visited at the Griffiths' summer home on Camano Island, near Everett, and Mrs. D. A. D. Ogden and General Ogden, commanding officer at Fort Warden, from where the party arrived on an American Army craft.

This is not the first trip to Victoria for the mother and daughter, who accompany General Clark on his "not too official trips".

"We spent New Year in Victoria in 1938, and returned again after the war," said Miss Clark. We were in Vancouver on V.J. Day," she continued.

The tall, slim, tanned young miss, has a busy schedule arranged for herself at her San Francisco home.

"My main interest is in window displaying, and in my spare time I study art," she says.

Miss Clark and her mother accompanied Gen. Clark to Austria last year. It was there they acquired their pet "Snootie". Following their reception, the party was taken to Government House where they were received by His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks and Mrs. Banks. Cmdr. Hew Patterson, naval aide, and Admiral P. W. Nelles, C.B., R.C.N. (Retired).

Joan Reid Now Mrs. Kenneth West

Standard baskets of pink and white gladioli decorated the chancel rail, and nosegays of carnations and gypsophilla marked guest pews at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, when Joan Alice Reid, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Reid, became the bride of Kenneth West, son of Mr. and Mrs. James West, 3064 Washington Avenue, Saturday at 8.

Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose as attendants Miss Mollie Kayll, honor maid, and Miss Patricia Adams, cousin of the bride, from California, as bridesmaids.

Both were twins in identical pale orchid taffeta gowns. They wore mits to match their frocks, and carried loose colonial bouquets of pink carnations and gladioli. Halos of similar flowers fashioned their headresses.

A seed pearl tiara crowned the full-length veil, which cascaded over the bride's gown of white satin, styled with sweetheart neckline, lily point sleeves, and slight peplum over the flared skirt. She wore a gold cross, and carried a colonial bouquet of golden roses and mauve gladioli.

Trevor West stood with his brother as best man, ushering guests to their seats were Robert Johnston and Jimmy Savory.

During the signing of the register, the church organist played "Ave Maria."

Following the ceremony guests attended a reception at the home of the bride's parents, 2501 Central Avenue.

Baskets of bright summer flowers decked the rooms, and the couple assisted by their mothers, received guests before the fireplace, banked with gladioli, hydrangea and ferns. Mrs. Reid was attired in a powder blue silk afternoon frock featuring peplum detailing at the back, matching feathered halo hat, and grey accessories and corsage bouquet of red roses. A turquoise blue ensemble with black accessories and corsage bouquet of Tailsman roses was worn by Mrs. West.

A three-tier cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centred the bride's table, which was set with white tapers in silver holders.

Toast to the bride was given by Geoffrey Edgelow.

Mr. and Mrs. West left for their honeymoon at Bowen Island, the bride wearing green and dark brown accessories with her cocoa brown gabardine suit, choirboy style, and corsage bouquet of Tailsman roses.

The couple will make their home in the city.

Lake Louise Trip Follows Morford-Andrews Wedding

Motoring in the northwestern States and to Banff and Lake Louise are the former Dorothy Lillian Orma Andrews and her groom, John Rowland Morford who were married Monday at 2.30 at St. John's Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Andrews, 1608 Camosun Street, and the groom son of M. R. Morford, Duncan, and the late Mr. Morford.

Baskets of pink and yellow gladioli, white asters and yellow chrysanthemums formed a colorful setting for the bride in her gown of white slipper satin. The sheer net yoke was outlined with satin petals studded with rhinestones, the long sleeves pointed over the wrists and full skirt gathered to the slim bodice. Over all misted her silk net veil, caught to her head with a shimmering coronet. Her shower bouquet was of pink rosebuds, swainsona and white larkspur. She wore her groom's gifts, a cameo bracelet and locket set in gold.

Mrs. Dorothy Stewart traveled from Red Deer, Alta., to attend her niece as honor matron. With her shell pink corded taffeta gown, distinguished with bustle detailing, she wore a coronet of pink blossoms and shoulder-length veil. Her Colonial bouquet contained pink carnations, larkspur and gladioli.

Miss Helen Ruckie, Beaver Point, Salt Spring Island, was gowned in blue taffeta with pink and blue ribbon coronet and carried a bouquet similar to that of the honor matron.

James Green, Duncan, was best man. Ushering guests to their seats was OD. James Andrews, brother of the bride.

Mothers of the couple received guests with them at a reception at Loughheed's Banquet Hall. Toast to the bride was proposed by OD. Stephen Bergson. A three-tier cake, flanked by lighted white tapers and vases of gladioli centred the table.

On return from their honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Morford will make their home in Duncan. With her sand beige gabardine suite the bride wore pink and brown accessories and corsage bouquet of pink carnations.

Mountbattens Now In Canada, Open C.N.E. At Toronto

Countess Mountbatten, C.I., D.C.V.O., C.B.E., who with her husband, Earl Mountbatten, will arrive in Toronto, Friday to open the C.N.E., will wear a Hartnell suit in plum wool. Her hat in matching color will be trimmed with plumes of osprey.

This attractive, gay and vital woman, now 47, was once headlined Britain's wealthiest heiress, being the favorite granddaughter of Sir Ernest Cassel, fabulously rich British financier. Tall and blonde, she was born Edwina Ashley and was goddaughter of King Edward VII.

On her father's side Countess Mountbatten claims descent from the Indian princess, Pocahontas, and on her mother's side from a line of Jewish princes who ruled Israel in Biblical days. Her grandfather, among other spectacular ventures, reconstructed the finances of the Argentine government, also turned the Nile Valley into a land of fertility.

Edwina Ashley became engaged to Lord Louis Mountbatten in India, where she was the guest of one of the Indian princes. Lord Louis was at the time aide-de-camp to his cousin the Prince of Wales, now the Duke of Windsor, who was then making an extended empire tour. Lord Louis was 22 and the Countess not quite 21 at the time of the engagement.

Their wedding was a brilliant affair, attended by royalty and the highest British society. Lord Louis had the Prince of Wales as his best man and the bride, who had seven attendants, wore a gown of soft silver tissue with a court train.

During World War II, the Countess energetically espoused the Home Service cause. Their homes were twice bombed and their prewar way of living completely abandoned. She became among other things superintendent of the St. John Ambulance Nursing Brigade and in this capacity came to Canada in 1941. Then she visited Toronto, Hamilton, Winnipeg and Montreal.

In March of last year she and the Viscount left for India to complete the difficult task of transferring power into the hands of the Indian government. Countess Mountbatten spent a great part of her time making visits up and down the country to hospitals and schools.

The Mountbattens have two daughters, both of whom have national good looks. They are Patricia, 22, now Lady Brabourne, mother of the first grandchild, and Pamela, 18, who was with them in India.

Forecast For The Fall

Plenty of dash in tweed is the forecast for fall and winter from the London salons of the leading British fashion designers. Here are two of their suggestions. Left: "Salt-and-pepper" tweed suit, with matching topcoat, designed by Molyneux. Right: Travel coat in heavy Scotch tweed, checked in oatmeal and black, designed by Digby Morton. Some of the new materials weigh only eight ounces to the square yard, but British women, despite their attachment to their world-famous tweeds, will see very little of them. Still severely clothes rationed, they will watch most of the styles go for export.

Victoria Woman Finds People Of England Happy, Contented

to some of the historic churches of England was "heartbreaking."

Much better conditions in England than she expected, with people generally contented, healthy and happy, were reported today by Mrs. Angeline Norris of Victoria, who returned this week to her Toronto Street home following a two-month visit to England and the United States.

Mrs. Norris flew from Patricia Bay to Montreal and thence by air to the Old Country, where she visited relatives and friends in London, and in cities and towns of a number of English counties.

"The babies are wonderfully healthy-looking and the school children are well looked after during school months with each provided with a pint of milk a day and a hot lunch free," Mrs. Norris said. "That really helps out the parents with the rationing."

NO GRUMBLING

"The people I saw seemed contented and though their diet is monotonous, they look healthy and are happy they got through the turmoil of war. I didn't notice any grumbling. The people on the streets have a much happier expression on their faces over there than I noticed in the American cities and towns I passed through on my return home."

Indicative, however, of the desire for clothes on the part of Britishers, who still must turn over coupons, is the fact that Mrs. Norris went to England with 66 pounds of baggage and returned with 21.

"I left practically all my clothes to my relatives over there, except what I needed to travel home in," she said with a laugh.

Speaking of the food rations, which are small, Mrs. Norris said, Danish parcels she had, had sent while she was in Victoria were most appreciated, with four pounds of butter in one parcel.

NEW HOMES BETTER

"New homes which are going up for the working people are far superior with much improved sanitary conditions, than the homes they were bombed out of," she said.

Highlight of her trip overseas was the opening of the Olympic Games with the march past in which all the athletes and coaches took part.

"Out of all those people I picked out Archie McKinnon and met him as the group he was in marched off."

A visit to the Palladium where she saw Charlie McCarthy and Edgar Bergen and to Drury Lane for "Oklahoma" were other highlights of Mrs. Norris' trip, her first to England in 29 years. She attended the 500th Mayoralty Year services at Canterbury Cathedral and said the damage

If a face is round, sunglasses that will create the illusion of more length will have high ear pieces, a high bridge and squarish or drop lenses. For a too-slender face, sunglasses frames which will help to foreshorten it have a low bridge piece, low temples and oblong oval lenses.

Keen Competition At Saanich Fair

Keen competition in the household arts, jams and bottled fruit classes, which will be judged by Miss G. Mann, B.C. Electric Home Service supervisor at Victoria, is expected at the Saanich Fair on Labor Day.

Mrs. A. G. Smith and Mrs. James Turner will be the committee in charge of the classes. Saanich grown fruit will be bottled into delectable preserves and there will be bottled fruits of all varieties and exhibits of home-baked bread, buns, cakes and cookies.

A veteran judge, Mrs. Abbott of Victoria will judge the needlework and weaving classes. Much of the display in this section is expected to be utilitarian, with sweaters and socks predominating. There will however be many pieces of fine embroidery exhibited.

Miss E. Jeune will convene the flower section and Howard Robinson of Elk Lake will judge the flowers, with all indications pointing to a big flower display. Councillor Tom Alexander has donated a prize to be awarded to the exhibitor obtaining most points in the flower classes.

All those intending to exhibit are asked to send entry forms as early as possible, while prize lists may be obtained from Stuart G. Stoddart, secretary of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society at Saanichton.

Courtenay Cone-Drying Shed Finished

This shed will dry seed for 25,000 acres of reforestation annually.

This building, a cone-drying shed erected by the B.C. Forest Service at Courtenay, will go into operation next week. In two dryings it will dry out seed for 25,000,000 Douglas fir trees annually—sufficient to reforest 25,000 acres of B.C. logged off and burned forest land.

The first of its kind in the province the completion of the shed marks another step forward in the reforestation program of the B.C. Forest Service.

Cones are gathered in the Courtenay area for this shed, the forest service paying the harvesters $2 a sack.

Elsewhere on Vancouver Island the forest service buys the cones already dried by the collectors and pays them $2.50 a sack. By drying the cones in its own plant the forest service hopes to get a better product.

With no cone extracting plant of its own, the forest service will ship the cones dried in the Courtenay plant to Vancouver where a private concern removes the seed for planting in the forest services nurseries.

Capacity of the nurseries has been increased so that the forest service now has available for planting 10,000,000 trees annually. This goal was almost reached this year for the first time with the planting of 9,700,000 seedlings on Vancouver Island.

While early indications were that there would be a good crop of cones this year, wet weather prevented complete pollenization and cones are not as abundant as first expected.

Doctor-Pilot Satisfies R.C.A.F. Northern Alberta Crash Accident

EDMONTON (CP)—Grimy and wan from 17 days in the bush, 61-year-old Dr. V. B. Murray returned to Edmonton Tuesday night, and today vowed his flying days were over.

The veteran Washington, D.C., doctor-pilot has satisfied R.C.A.F. officials his crash in the wilds of northern Alberta was an accident and that no desire to escape from civilization prompted his crack-up at lonely Chip Lake, 80 miles southwest of his announced destination of Grande Prairie, Alta. But 2½ weeks of wandering through the bush has cured his zest for air travel.

The twin-engined Cessna aircraft that Dr. Murray overturned in the brush when he ran out of fuel, miles off his course, Aug. 7, is now the property of J. McCullough, the trapper who found him at Nose Creek, a few miles from the scene of the crash, and brought him back to safety by pack-horse.

TO SELL PLANE

The doctor explained he had planned to ferry the plane to Fairbanks, Alaska, and sell it there. He blamed poor eyesight for the 10-degree deviation in his course that landed him in the northern Alberta wilderness.

He was at a loss to explain the rumors of the abandoned airfield 100 miles from the nearest road of trail, where he was said to be seeking a back-to-nature holiday.

R.C.A.F. officials, who disclosed Dr. Murray's alleged plans two weeks ago, claimed the information was contained in a letter he had written to a Washington friend. They had planned to charge him with filing an incorrect flight plan, giving rise to a $35,000 search.

Still limping from a knee injury suffered in the crash Dr. Murray said he had been "misquoted" and denied any intention of departing from his Edmonton-Grande Prairie course.

"I guess they just didn't understand writing," he said.

SAYS IT WAS ACCIDENT

Sqdn. Ldr. J. T. Arnold, Northwest Air Command flying officer, who returned with Dr. Murray after questioning him about the flight, said he was convinced the pilot strayed from his course accidentally.

Dr. Murray told of his wanderings after leaving his overturned plane. Taking his food and clothing, and the plane's compass, he started out on foot to find his way back to civilization. He left a note on the aircraft and scattered a few others along his route to guide possible rescuers. These notes guided McCullough to him at Nose Creek.

The pilot's food supplies were almost exhausted when he was found, and he was weak from exposure and his skimpy rationed diet.

Locke, Leonard Score Easy Win

SASKATOON (CP)—Bobby Locke, South African holder of the Canadian Open title, clipped one stroke off the Saskatoon Golf and Country Club's par as he and Stan Leonard, of Vancouver, teamed to beat Pat Fletcher and Bill Turnbull, local professionals, 7 and 5, in an exhibition match before 1,500 fans Tuesday.

All players found scoring difficult; a strong wind swept across the course throughout the match. Locke and Leonard had a best ball of 64, eight under par. Fletcher and Turnbull had 73.

In individual scores Locke led the foursome with 71; Leonard had 75; and Turnbull 76.

Williams-Flores Fight Moved Back

NEW YORK (AP)—The lightweight title bout between champion Ike Williams and Jesse Flores has been moved back a day to Sept. 23 because of a radio commitment, the 20th Century Sporting Club has announced.

Welterweight Ray Robinson will meet Cuba's Kid Gavilan in a non-title 10-rounder on the same card.

The 20th's show at Yankee Stadium originally was set for Sept. 22, one day after the tournament of Champions' program at Jersey City, N.J.

The T. of C. also has a double-header card with a middleweight title clash between champion Tony Zale and Marcel Cerdan, and a heavyweight tussle matching Jersey Joe Walcott and Gus Lesnevich.

Seattle By Christmas To Get Television

SEATTLE (AP)—Seattle radio station KRSC announced Tuesday it will be on the air with television by Christmas this year.

P. K. Leberman of New York, president of the Radio Sales Corporation, owners of KRSC, said the station plans to put a test signal on the air during the latter part of October to permit set tuning in private homes.

Regular evening telecasts will follow, he said, as soon as final arrangements with local sponsors can be completed.

Boxing, wrestling, hockey, basketball and football will be televised during the winter months from flexible remote units. For the first six months few, if any, studio productions will be scheduled.

Teletranscribed features, newsreels, children's programs and feature films also are planned.

Council Of Churches
To Blueprint Policy
On World Situation

AMSTERDAM (AP) — The east-west conflict has brought the World Council of Churches to its feet. What are the churches going to do about it?

Delegates have listened for three days to introductory speeches concluding the first part of this church assembly. They have heard agreement on the futility of war and the need for peace. Conflicting east and west views have been voiced.

Today they got down to brass tacks to see what steps the churches can take to ease a world situation which has boiled up to crisis at Berlin.

BASIS OF STATEMENT

Some of the world's leading churchmen went behind closed doors to work out a composite, if not a unified, view as the basis for a significant church pronouncement on east-west differences.

Delegates were divided into four main groups concerned with the church's "message to major problems in the contemporary world." The group concerned with "the church and international disorder" has emerged as the most important of these.

Two conflicting points of view were expressed Tuesday before this group, with delegates intently listening to John Foster Dulles of the United States for the west, and Prof. Joseph L. Hromadka of Czechoslovakia for the east.

Dulles challenged Communism and declared the Soviet Communist regime was not for peace and "does not purport to be." Hromadka declared the world is witnessing the end of western supremacy in the world because of "anxiety about the advancing social transformations under the leadership of the Soviet Union."

At a press conference following his assembly address, Hromadka was challenged on his address. A man who said he was from Latvia declared there was no religious freedom left in his country, absorbed by Russia eight years ago, and predicted the same would happen in Czechoslovakia, now Communist-ruled. Hromadka said he could speak only for today, but that if tomorrow brought a Communist clamp-down on freedom he would fight for it.

In a later interview he said no restrictions had been placed on his work in the church since the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

Board To Reduce Costs Of School

Cowichan District School Board, No. 65, has been informed by the Department of Education that costs of Cowichan's planned $600,000 junior-senior high school must be curtailed before the government can give the "go-ahead" signal.

The provincial government felt that the cost of the school could be kept within the $600,000 if frills were cut from the building plan.

It was explained, costs have risen from 35 cents a square foot to 50 cents.

The high school is one of four buildings on the board's $970,000 building program. Elementary school buildings are planned for Bench, Malahat, Shawnigan Lake, and Crofton.

A special meeting of the school board will be held in Duncan to discuss the matter. The reduced high school plan would cut out the gymnasium-auditorium for the time being, board officials felt.

Archers On 20,000 Mile Trip To Eat Only Game Shot With Bow

Three adventurous Californians who arrived in Victoria Monday don't have to worry about soaring meat prices—they eat anything from big game to robins and squirrels.

The trio are on a 20,000, eight-month hunting trek across country. Their route will extend across Canada, down the east coast of the United States to Cuba; then into Mexico, arriving home about Jan. 1, 1949.

Maurice Charles, his wife, Nikki, and Leo B. Theroux, make up the adventurous party. They carry no firearms and plan to subsist entirely by the use of bow and arrow. They hunt game in season and predatory animals for bounty fees.

"Our main objective is to prove that even in this day it is possible to live off the land like in the days of Robin Hood," explained Maurice Charles. "We also intend to record our experience for a New York publishing firm."

'NOTHING LIKE IT'

When asked how they liked the life, the trio replied in unison that "there was nothing like it."

The party created quite a sensation when they arrived in Victoria with jeep and trailer. They were attired with buckskin jackets and wore Robin Hood hats with feathers. They carried with them a 16-ft. canoe and two pups, Sir Topper and Chinook.

Chinook is ten weeks old and was given to them by Lloyd Beebe, a cougar hunter at Port Angeles. The 10-week-old pup was christened by Capt. Lyle Fowler, master of the Ms. Chinook.

Nikki Charles, a pretty brunette, said they gave up their jobs in San Francisco. "My husband couldn't find enough to hunt around San Francisco," she said. "And then again we wanted to see how one could subsist off the land."

They left San Francisco on July 1 and proceeded through Oregon and Washington, she said. On their way through to Victoria they mainly subsisted on fish which they caught in rivers and streams.

She said they only allow themselves basic foodstuffs such as flour, sugar, coffee, rice and spices.

RABBITS AND SQUIRRELS

"What did you shoot on your way up," they were asked.

Mr. Theroux replied that they had shot smaller game such as rabbits and squirrels.

"How do squirrels taste," he was asked.

"Very similar to rabbit," he replied. "Robins are also tasty."

The three adventurers, all top-notch archers, are members of the National Field Archers' Association and the San Francisco Archery Club. Of the three, Mr. Charles is considered the best shot.

The party are carrying with them nine bows weighing between 50 to 65 pounds. They have 1,000 arrows which they made themselves before starting on their hunting trip.

They plan to go up-island, north of Nanaimo, where they hope to do some shooting when the hunting season opens in September. While waiting, the trio hope to bag a cougar.

Shooting with a bow and arrow, according to Mr. Charles, takes lots of patience. "You have to stalk your prey," he said, "you have to get pretty close up before you shoot. It is not like shooting with a gun equipped with a telescopic sight."

The party were impressed with Victoria, but found Canadian cigarettes expensive. "Thirty-six cents is a lot of money for 20 cigarettes," they said.

New Clay Courts At North Saanich

Tennis enthusiasts gathered at the North Saanich High School to participate in the opening of two new clay courts. The courts, financed jointly by the School Board and Parent-Teacher Association were built by volunteer labor, two work parties being held each week during June, July and August.

As chairman of the building committee, D. E. Breckenridge, opened the ceremony by relating the events that culminated in the building of the courts, and praising the efforts of the 25 community-minded men who participated in the building program. Special tribute was paid to the owners of private courts in North Saanich who had made their courts available to high school tennis enthusiasts in the absence of public courts. These included F. J. Baker, Miss E. Gwynne, J. Woods, Mrs. C. Layard and G. Cochran.

Mrs. Kynaston, president of the North Saanich P.T.A., in accepting the courts from the building committee, said that it had given the P.T.A. much gratification to sponsor such a worthwhile project and called upon A. Sansbury, chairman of School District No. 63, to accept the courts on behalf of the school board.

In accepting the courts for the board Mr. Sansbury praised volunteer efforts of this kind, thanked all who had contributed time and effort and then proceeded to open the courts by delivering an over-head tennis "smash" to a tennis ball that, when released, automatically opened the gate of the new courts.

The duration of the afternoon was devoted to tennis and tea. The latter being convened by Mrs. J. Woods.

Income Tax Troubles Keep Mills Inactive

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The last news item this correspondent picked up in London concerned Freddie Mills, the new light heavyweight champion, who is supposed to be afflicted with a wandering vertebrae, or something, which will keep him out of the ring for a time.

Our informant, who is close to the British boxing scene, broke out in a wide grin when we commented it was a tough break for Freddie, being forced to cancel a return fight with Gus Lesnevich on this side just when he was getting into the big money.

"Are you joking?" our British friend demanded. "Don't you honestly know what's wrong with Mills?"

He was assured that all we knew was what the doctors had said—that Freddie was in no shape to fight Lesnevich or anybody else. We added that we were ready to believe this, inasmuch as Freddie, even in licking Lesnevich, had looked like a man whose features might have been run through an egg beater.

SOME WONDERFUL BEATINGS

"True," our informant admitted.

Jockey Moncrief Gets Down With 4 Winners

VANCOUVER (CP) — Apprentice Marvin Moncrief Tuesday climbed higher in jockey standing at Hastings Park, booting home four of his seven mounts during the 17th day of the meet.

The 16-year-old Florida hardboot won in the second aboard Jazz Lady and came back in the fourth aboard Black Cloud to post the highest mutual price of the day, $25.40, $8.20 and $5.60. He rode the featured $1,200 handicap winner, Spartan's Last, for a $17.70 return and topped off his best effort with Vegas Jay Kay in the eighth.

Moncrief is ranked third in standings behind Vancouver's Paul Bailey and Ted Johnson.

In the featured seventh race, Spartan's Last, a three-year-old bay, was held back of pace under wraps but got to top on the stretch turn. Lord Onslaught made up ground to be second, while Peaceful Jane finished third. Barnton, the favorite, was never in contention.

Paige Will Cost Cleveland $55,000

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland News estimates the Indians will pay $25,000 this year to Satchel Paige. In all, the newspaper says, he cost the Tribe $55,000.

Quoting a "source close to the Cleveland club," the News said: Paige was paid $10,000 to sign and gets $5,000 a month. With three months work this season that will come to $25,000.

In addition, the paper says, the tribe paid the Kansas City Monarchs $15,000 for Paige's contract. Another $15,000 went to Abe Saperstein of Chicago, general manager of the Negro National League, the News said.

BANFF SPRINGS GOLF

BANFF, Alta. (CP) — Two Americans were tied Tuesday for the leadership in opening rounds of the four-day medal-play handicap Banff Springs tournament.

Paul Glasser of Seattle and Gordon Clarke of Okmulgee, Okla., fired 70s.

Schroeder, Parker Carry Load For U.S. Tennis Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Schroeder, Frankie Parker, Gardnar Mulloy and Billy Talbert were picked Tuesday to defend the Davis Cup for the United States against Australia in the challenge round at Forest Hills Sept. 4 to 6.

The only surprise lay in the ignoring of Bob Falkenberg, the tall California fireballer who won this summer's Wimbledon championship. The cup selection committee chose to bank on a quartette of veterans, deep in cup experience, to turn back the Aussies.

Present indications are that this will be a two-man team, with Schroeder and Parker playing both singles matches and pairing up in the doubles. Talbert, however, made a strong bid for a singles assignment by winning last week's Newport tournament, in which all the big shots competed.

ALL TOO PLAUSIBLE

He made it sound all too plausible, especially since we had recently seen promoter Jack Solomons in action on his home ground and had gained considerable respect for his talents.

He is a smooth customer and a great showman. He had a sell-out of 46,000 for the Lesnevich-Mills bout, and could have sold another 20,000 tickets if he had wished to expand his seating arrangement.

If the British government ever amends its law requiring that at least one of the two fighters in the ring be a British citizen, Solomons will become a big figure in the world boxing picture.

British Youth Finds Fault With Essay Which Won Trip To Canada

A 17-year-old youth from Glasgow, Scotland, who is a student at Harrow, arrived in Victoria late Tuesday to commence an expense-paid, four-week tour of Canada.

He is W. D. J. Cargill Thompson and his visit here is his reward for submitting the best entry in an essay contest open to all British boys between the ages of 16 and 19.

The contest was sponsored by the Overseas League. Those entering were required to express their views on Canada's French-Canadian problem. Eighty-five essays were submitted to the contest judges.

"I obtained my information from history books," the winner said in an interview this morning. "I couldn't find anything printed on the subject later than 1939."

"From what I did read, I thought a mountain was being made out of a molehill and I wrote in my essay that the problem could be put right very easily with just a little tact and diplomacy."

HAS CHANGED MIND

"But now I've visited Montreal and Quebec and found out about Mr. Duplessis, I've changed my mind."

There is definitely a problem to be solved so that French and English-speaking Canadians may understand and respect the other's position, he said. It is a problem which entails much more than those things which history books concern themselves.

Thompson's trip to Canada began Aug. 6, when he sailed from Liverpool aboard the Empress of Canada. The ship docked at Montreal Aug. 11. After spending time with cousins in the east, the youth was flown to the Pacific by Trans-Canada Air Lines to begin in earnest the cross-country tour planned by the Overseas League.

He thinks the trip is a great experience, and details of all his adventures in the Dominion are

W. D. J. CARGILL THOMPSON being carefully entered in a diary.

SEES ISLAND

Today he is being taken up Island to visit points of interest and to see how lumber camps operate. He will remain here until Sunday as the guest of Maj.-Gen. H. F. Hertzberg and Mrs. Hertzberg, 454 Newport Avenue.

He will have completed his tour in a month's time and will sail from New York aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth on Sept. 23.

WILL ENTER ARMY

After completing another year at Harrow, he will serve a year in the army as required under Britain's compulsory military training program.

"Everyone, who is physically fit, has to join when he's 18," he explained. "You do six months at basic training and six months learning an army trade."

Some of the one-year soldiers are sent to serve six months as occupation troops in the British zone of Germany, he said.

After his term of soldiering, Thompson says he will likely enter Cambridge. He has not yet made up his mind what profession he will enter.

Esquimalt Group Selects Its First Area For Work

First area to receive the attention of the newly-formed Voluntary Social Workers' Club in Esquimalt will be the Colville wartime housing area, it was reported today.

The club has already held two meetings and has a third scheduled for next Tuesday evening at 8.

At the second meeting at the Esquimalt Community Centre, 1123 Colville Road, 11 new members were received. They were Mrs. Percy Daggett, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dixon, Tom Jones, Mrs. C. MacRae, Mrs. G. R. Morgan, John Robbie, Mrs. James Umpley, Joe Watt, Mrs. Lyall Wedman and Bill Walker.

Members who want to take a part in community activities as group leaders and committee heads will be able to receive the necessary instruction and training in a series of classes which will start early in September under the direction of Mrs. Edith Brindley.

The club has discussed group activities to foster community co-operation and build community interest. The first of these activities will be a series of whist games and the opening game of the season will be held Thursday evening at 7.45 at the Esquimalt Community Centre. Mr. Dixon has been elected chairman of the committee in charge of whist games.

Land Offered City For Playground

Offer of Sandham Graves, 170 Bushby Street, to donate part of his property at Bushby and Eberts Street for development of a playground, is welcomed by the city parks committee.

The committee is recommending to the City Council that the property be surveyed and that a by-law be prepared transferring the portion of the property in the offer to the city for parks purposes.

Mr. Graves will be thanked for his "public spiritedness and interest in the development of the playground."

Reserve Placed On Area Of Possible Development

A reserve to prevent "nuisance" staking of mineral claims in the Eutsuk Lake area has been clamped on by the provincial government.

The area is the scene of possible huge hydroelectric power development by the Aluminum Company of Canada.

DUNCAN METAL WORKS
DUNCAN, B.C.

Immediate Start On Modern Terminal For Deepsea Passengers

Work will be started immediately at Pier A, Ogden Point, to provide a modern passenger terminal for deepsea ships.

The work to be done by L. G. Scott, contractor, for the C.N.R., will cost approximately $11,000.

C.N.R. officials said today that in addition to providing up-to-date waiting rooms and administration offices in the east end of the pier building, lunchroom facilities will be built on the south side for stevedores and other workers.

A heating plant will be built also to be equipped with oil furnaces.

The reconstruction is expected to be completed by the end of September or middle of October.

Urges Naming Park After Alderman

Robert D. Harvey, K.C., urges the city in a letter received today that a park recently opened in Victoria West be named officially Banfield Park after Ald. Charles Banfield.

Mr. Harvey says the community owes a great debt to men of Ald. Banfield's calibre and "we are fortunate indeed to have men like him give their time and effort and leadership to community affairs."

It was largely through the alderman's efforts that the park was dedicated.

Mr. Harvey continues: "One hears so much criticism these days of men and women who give their services to community effort that I think it is time that some recognition is given to those who do accomplish things like the recreation centre."

"Too frequently honor is not paid to such public stewards until they have passed on. Perhaps recognition could be afforded Ald. Banfield while he is still in active service."

Last Band Concert Of Summer Series

The final summer concert of the B.C. Electric series will be presented from the Cameron Pavilion tonight at 8, James M. Miller, conducting.

The program has been selected from requests handed in during the series.

Assisting artists will again be Miss Grace Adams, who will sing "Spring Awakening" and "Mighty Lak a Rose," and Art Stringer, who has chosen "On the Road to Mandalay" and "Dear Little Boy of Mine."

The band's opening number will be a concert march, paraphrased and scored by Alford, "My Hero," from the Chocolate Soldier; "Ruy Blas" overture will be repeated by request. A concert polka for three cornets entitled, "Triplets of the Finest" should prove as popular as the previous trio "The Three Solitaires." An American sketch, "Down by the Suwannee River," by Myddleton, is a repeat number that was exceedingly well received. A piccolo solo by bandman M. Crawford will precede Schubert's Unfinished Symphony, also by request. Weber's "Invitation A La Valse" will be followed by "Amma," Egyptian serenade, which concludes the program.

Tally-Ho Horses Bolt On Yates St.

An automobile saved a group of sightseers from a wild ride up Yates Street, when frightened horses drawing the tourist-loaded tally-ho coach bolted in front of the Dominion Hotel Tuesday.

The coach, which was being carried away by the frightened horses, struck a car which was waiting at the corner of Yates and Blanshard for the traffic light to change. The impact caused the pole and harness to break and the horses proceeded up the street on their own.

A horse which stumbled and fell brought the team to a stop. Citizens then rushed out of stores and seized the runaway horses. Police said the horses, when they arrived on Yates Street, were in a state of excitement probably caused by the band which met Gen. Mark Clark landing in the Inner Harbor yesterday afternoon.

Consider Playground For Quadra District

The city parks committee is giving serious consideration to development of a playground in the Quadra Street district early in the new year, it was learned at City Hall today.

The Quadra Parent-Teacher Association has asked that a playground be made available for the children of the area, and the parks committee may reserve two pieces of property between Finlayson Street and Talmie Avenue for the purpose.

TOPOGRAPHIC CHIEF — A. G. Slocumb, above, has been appointed chief of the topographic division of the lands and forests department's surveys branch. His most recent undertaking has been a photo-topographic survey along the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Pipe Company Head Heard In Appeal

The parade of witnesses giving evidence as to the condition of assets expropriated by the B.C. Power Commission from Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities Ltd. in 1945 continued in Supreme Court today.

The hearing, before Judge J. O. Wilson is of appeals by both sides against awards of valuations of the expropriated assets.

H. C. Fitz-James, manager of the Pacific Coast Pipe Co., Vancouver, gave the court a breakdown of costs of 4,120 feet of wood-stave pipe sold to Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities in 1939 and gave a comparison of the costs at time of purchase with what they would have been at Aug. 1, 1945, when the power commission took over the electrical systems of the company.

Other evidence regarding condition of assets, particularly the poles and fixtures, was given by A. E. Cunningham, line superintendent of the power commissions coastal region.

D. C. Stephenson, coastal region manager, submitted photographs of poles and transmission lines, and corrected certain statistics regarding Gulf Islands customers.

Robert Barlow Dies

Robert McDonald Barlow, resident of Tod Inlet and Bamerton and an employee of the B.C. Cement Co. Ltd. for the past 36 years, died at Royal Jubilee Hospital Tuesday.

Born in Scotland, he came to Canada as a young man. An active member of the Masonic Order, he was a past master of the Malahat Lodge A.F. & A.M., No. 107.

Funeral service will be held at 2 Saturday afternoon at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Interment at Royal Oak.

Fined $100 For Giving Liquor To An Indian

William Dods was fined $100 or, in default, to serve two months in jail, by Magistrate H. C. Hall in Police Court today. Dods was found guilty Tuesday of supplying liquor to an Indian.

The Red Cross has a message for Mrs. Tyle Robertson, who came to Canada from Weston-Super-Mare about two years ago and is now thought to be living in Victoria. The local branch is at 602 Broughton Street, phone B 3159.

Fishermen Averaging $1,200 A Day In Northern Tuna Boom

A regular boom in the B.C. tuna fishing industry with some boats averaging a $1,200 haul a day, and two record landings established Tuesday was reported today by Elgin Neish, president of the Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, Victoria local.

The present tuna run, located off the Queen Charlotte Islands, was first located by the Canadian government ship Laurier which has been hunting the tuna for B.C. fishermen.

The Tuesday records were achieved when the fishing vessel Valjim landed nine tons of tuna worth $5,600 at Vancouver, an all-time record for that port, and tuna landings at Clemtu reached a record total for that port of 100,000 pounds.

When the northern tuna run was located early this month, hundreds of craft set their course for the area. First vessel there was Ray Prince's Violet G. of Victoria. He was followed by the Tatchu from Vancouver, and Max Coneau, in Dorabelle II, Sooke.

Heavy northwest winds drove the fleet off the grounds and they were not able to get back until about Aug. 10... nearly six days later.

First to deliver a load was Morgan Berg, in his new vessel, North Pacific, which sold over 12,000 pounds in Prince Rupert... first large commercial load of tuna to be sold in that port. The hardworking tuna fleet now includes nearly all available B.C. craft and many American boats as well... many of whom are averaging 400 tuna a day.

Actors List Worst Movies They Made; Diagnose Ailments

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Film stars seem to enjoy naming their worst pictures.

The psychology boys might call it mental relief. Or the idea of "I said it and I'm glad."

Their eyes light up as they recall those turkeys of yore.

Here's the latest compilation: Alan Ladd: "Blue Dahlia" was pretty awful. We made up the story as we went along. I never did figure it out.

Evelyn Keyes: "Before I Die" was my worst picture. What was wrong with it? Me!

John Wayne: I'll pick "Allegheny Uprising." I played a cautious man in it, and there can be nothing deadlier on the screen than a cautious man.

Donna Reed: Oh, I've had so many! "Mokey" with Dan Dailey at M-G-M was probably the worst. I was 20 at the time, playing a mean stepmother. When I saw the finished picture in the projection room I was so embarrassed that I walked out half way through it.

Bill Holden: My worst was "Young and Willing." I suppose I dislike it most because it followed me all over the world during my army tour.

Lizabeth Scott: My worst was "Dead Reckoning." I never did understand the character. Bogle was a baby. He was the only thing that made it possible to get through the picture.

James Stewart: The one I'd like most to forget is "The Last Gangster." I had to wear a moustache and I refused to grow one myself. It was a lot of trouble to put one on every day and it tickled when I talked. The preview audience agreed with me about the moustache. They were laughing at it in my most dramatic scene.

Virginia Mayo: I like all my pictures. They've all been good. I've been lucky. I want to remember them all.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Gene Tierney and George Sanders were rehearsing a kissing scene for Twentieth Century-Fox's "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," when a hardly suppressed and definitely prolonged giggle smote their ears. The culprit was Gene's pretty younger sister, Pat Tierney, who apologized with:

"So sorry—you held that kiss so long it made me nervous."

Joseph L. Mankiewicz, director of the film currently at the Oak Bay Theatre, turned, kidded Pat: "Nervous or envious?"

Pat fled from the set in confusion.

BRITONS IN BERLIN FACE BEER RATIONING—Indirect result of the Berlin crisis is this scene, with Mrs. Mary Coleman of London, wife of a British soldier stationed in the German capital, getting her weekly ration of beer at the commissary. Western Berlin's only brewery is operating only part time, since electricity is curtailed, and all British adult personnel are rationed to four bottles a week.

ITTY BABY WANTS HER ITTY BOTTLE—Biggest bottle baby in captivity may be Roma, eight-day-old elephant in a Rome, Italy, zoo. Roma's mother, Juliet, refuses to have anything to do with her child, so zoo keepers feed the 230-pound baby her milk bottle every two hours.

PLAZA THEATRE

Cinemagoers will note an attractive young player who just merely "walks on" in the role of a nurse in the maternity hospital scene in "When the Bough Breaks," currently at the Plaza

Theatre. They will be interested to know that this young actress, Sonia Holm, is now taking far more important roles in British pictures.

Following her brief appearance in "When the Bough Breaks," she was given a contract by the J. Arthur Rank Organization and has taken important supporting roles in such films as "Broken Journey," "The Loves of Joanna Godden," "Miranda" and "The Calendar."

DOMINION THEATRE

Gordon MacRae, who hails from the Broadway musical comedy stage, radio and recording fields, bows in on the screen in "Warner Bros." "The Big Punch," in a non-singing role. This film, now at the Dominion Theatre, presents the rising young personality in a rugged role of a prize-fighter.

MacRae gets his chance to sing, however, in his next film, "Silver Lining," also from Warner Bros.

YORK THEATRE

Charged with the blood and fire of Frank Yerby's sensational best-selling novel, Twentieth Century-Fox's eagerly-awaited film version of "The Foxes of Harrow" is now at the York Theatre. From all advance reports, the film, which stars Rex Harrison and Maureen O'Hara with an outstanding supporting cast, is being acclaimed as one of the most exciting novel-to-screen triumphs Hollywood has yet achieved.

2 Armed Mosquitoes Cleared By Customs

MONTREAL (CP) — Two armed Mosquito bombers en route to the Dominican Republic were cleared through customs here Monday and flew on, presumably toward their destination, a customs official at Dorval airport said Tuesday night.

He said he did not know further details, but the planes definitely had left Monday.

The planes, which came from Britain, were flown by two British pilots. Recently the Dominican Republic attempted unsuccessfully to buy similar planes in Canada.

The British Mosquitoes carried the traditional armament of four cannon each.

RIO THEATRE

One of Hollywood's most widely-travelled actors, Bruce Cabot, who plays the role of the treacherous killer in Republic's "Angel and the Badman," John Wayne's first starring-producing film, now at the Rio Theatre, left as soon as the picture was completed to fly to South America. He plans to make an extended trip to the hitherto little-explored mountain sections of that continent. Gail Russell is co-starred.

De Mille Spectacle Features Daughter

Quite content to be Mrs. Anthony Quinn, Katherine De Mille seldom ventures from the tranquillity of domestic life to brave the hustle and bustle of Hollywood's movie studios.

But when Poppa, famed producer Cecil B. DeMille, calls, it is not only parental respect that hastens Katy to his side. Even a happy housewife wouldn't miss a chance to work for DeMille.

So Katherine DeMille's name appears high up in the billing of the master showman's latest technicolor triumph for Paramount, "Unconquered," which is at the Atlas Theatre today. She has one of the top supporting roles in the mammoth spectacle of frontier life which stars Gary Cooper and Paulette Goddard.

CAPITOL THEATRE

When Joseph Cotten climbed onto the quarter-deck of a horse for his role in David O. Selznick's big Technicolor epic of Texas, "Duel in the Sun," now at the Capitol Theatre, it was for the first time in his life. Joe just doesn't like horses.

His grandfather raised a very

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

FUEL COSTS CUT BY THOUSANDS

To the many thousands of homeowners who have insulated their houses with Johns-Manville Rock Wool, the present high price of fuel is less cause for alarm.

Homeowners have learned through experience that Johns-Manville home insulation stops heat losses twice as effectively as any other fuel saving method. They know that regardless of what they paid for J-M insulation, it eventually costs them nothing. It saves up to 30 per cent on fuel each year—keeps their homes snug and warm—free from harmful draughts. And, in summer-time keeps indoor temperatures cooler by up to 15 degrees. If your home is not already insulated, get the facts and free folder on Johns-Manville Rock Wool Home Insulation from your nearest J-M dealer, or contact Johns-Manville, 1206 Homer St., Vancouver.

Colorful Native Costumes Seen During London's Tourist Season

LONDON (CP)—London has recaptured some of its old imperial glitter this summer as visitors from scores of countries walk its streets, often in colorful native costumes.

There are Indian students, the girls in flowing, pastel-shaded saris—sometimes raised high enough to show substantial western footwear. There are Burmese in colored silk jackets and pill-box hats, and other Orientals in billowing pantaloons and carefully-coiled turbans.

Dark-skinned Africans, usually in European garb, attract less notice from blasé Londoners than Americans, whose wide-brimmed hats, hand-painted neckties and bright jackets call for stares and comment.

The French are the gayest, joking merrily among themselves—unless it settles down to a steady rain. There are few more dejected sights than a rain-soaked French tourist contemplating a dripping London street.

Londoners were prepared for a measure of condescension from their foreign visitors, and have been quite gratified to find a respectful sympathy instead. There are the usual groans about the British diet and climate, but most of the tourists have gone away saying nice things.

Extra Tennis Courts For Stadacona Park

Eighty-eight boys and girls who asked the city in a petition several weeks ago to give them more tennis courts in parks will receive an answer soon.

The parks committee is recommending to the City Council that two hard-surface courts be constructed at Stadacona Park near the Oak Bay junction at a cost of approximately $2,800.

The amount for construction of hard tennis courts was deleted from the 1948 estimates of the parks committee in the spring.

Investors Cautious On Dull Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market floundered around in a narrow price area today.

Trading was slow and price changes for the most part indecisive.

A little attention was given corporation developments but on the whole investors and speculators proceeded as though they were walking on eggs.

On the losing side off and on were U.S. Steel, General Motors, United Aircraft, American Smelting, General Electric, Philip Morris, Pacific Western Oil and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Dow Jones Averages:

30 industrials 182.41, off .17

20 rails 61.00, up .10

15 utilities 34.56, off .10
